WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 26.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Astounding discoveries have been made by the Government of intended frauds in regard to soldiers' votes; the grounds of the confidence of leading Democrats of being able to carry New York are now understood. A systematic and wide-spread conspiracy has been brought to light, carried on by agents here and at Baltimore, Harper's Ferry and in the Army of the Potomac, under the immediate supervision and direction of the leaders of the party in that State. Several of these agents have been arrested and are now in jail, and others will be arrested as fast as proof can be collected and proper provision can be made for their trial.

A military commission has already been ordered, and will meet to-morrow morning in Baltimore, under the Presidency of Gen. DOUBLEDAY. In the trial of two of the leading actors in this conspiracy who are known to have been in direct and constant communication with leading officials and members of the Democratic State Committee in New-York, the testimony in their cases, which I have seen and read, is full, direct and conclusive. It will leave not the slightest doubt that a gigantic conspiracy has been at work for months in maturing and executing a plan for defrauding the soldiers of their votes and for overwhelming the suffrage of citizens at home by the forged votes of thousands and tens of thousands of soldiers who have fallen in battle, or died in the hospitals, or who have never existed. In some cases sealed envelopes containing LINCOLN ballots have been opened and MCCLELLAN ballots have been substituted, but the main reliance of the conspirators has been on the forgery of signatures of pretended soldiers to papers, transmitting MCCLELLAN and SEYMOUR votes.

Men now in custody have been actively engaged in this business for weeks, and, as one of the parties involved declares, forged ballots of this kind have been forwarded in dry goods boxes-full, to the headquarters of the conspiracy, and New-York and Albany. Judge HOLT, the Judge Advocate General, has had the papers laid before him, and has prepared a brief report on the subject. He pronounces the crime thus committed to be one of the most serious character, and it will be dealt with as such by the Government.

The court-martial which meets to-morrow (Thursday) for the purpose of trying the parties already arrested, will make short work of the case, and the Government will not hesitate to carry into effect whatever sentence they may pronounce. Other parties implicated will be sent before them as rapidly as possible, and all the agents in the affair are under the vigilant surveillance of the Government.

You must not be surprised if these disclosures and arrests should touch some persons high in official and political authority in New-York. Among other things discovered in this city was the headquarters of a set of gentlemen, busily engaged in filling up commissions of agents, signed in blank by Gov. SEYMOUR, and some of the parries involved themselves hold commissions from them.

FURTHER DETAILS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Oct. 27.

Some days since it became apparent that the Copperhead managers in the State of New-York had conceived and were executing some system of frauds, by which they expected to carry the State at the Presidential election, by overriding the will of the legal voters. Measures were immediately taken to discover the nature and extent of their frauds, and in a short time the authorities had in their possession evidence sufficient to justify the arrest of two of the Copperhead State agents, who were carrying on their operations in Baltimore and Washington. Yesterday, the Secretary of War issued an order directing the Military Commission, of which Gen. DOUBLEDAY is President, to immediately proceed with the trial of EDWARD DONAHUE, Jr., and M. J. FERRY, who were held as prisoners at Baltimore. The Court met, this morning, at Barnum's Hotel. Col. JOHN A. FOSTER, of the One Hundred and Seventy-fifth New-York Volunteers, acting as Judge-Advocate. ALEXANDER N. HARVEY, Esq., of Buffalo, was present, to watch the proceedings and to assist in eliciting the character and ramifications of the alleged frauds. The prisoners being arraigned, the following charges and specifications were read, to which they were required to plead:

CHARGES AND SPECIFICATIONS PREFERRED AGAINST EDWARD DONAHUE, JR., AND MOSES J. FERRY.

Charge—Conduct prejudicial to the welfare of the service. Falsely personating and representing officers and soldiers in the United States service, and, in such assumed capacity, falsely and fraudulently signing and forging names of officers and soldiers in such service. Specification—In this, that said EDWARD DONAHUE, Jr., and M. J. FERRY, being ostensibly authorized as the agents of the State of New-York for the purpose of receiving the votes of the soldiers of the United States, electors of the State of New-York, at the general election to be held on the eighth day of November, 1864, did falsely and fraudulently personate the officers and soldiers who have been, or now are, or who purport to be, in the military service of the United States, and did falsely and fraudulently sign and forge, and also caused to be signed and forged to the blanks issued under and pursuant to Chapter 253 of the laws of the State of New-York, passed April 21, 1864, entitled "An act to enable qualified electors of the State absent therefrom, and in the military service of the United States, in the army and navy thereof, to vote," names purporting to be the names of officers, and soldiers in the service of the United States, and qualified electors of the State of New-York, and absent therefrom; said blanks being issued under said laws and intended to be used for the purpose of transmitting the vote of the soldiers signing the same to his proper attorney, to be used at the general election to be held in said State on the 8th day of November, 1864. All this being done by the said DONAHUE and FERRY with the intent and for the purpose of having such blanks so signed, used as and for the act and deed of the officers and soldiers whose names purported to be signed thereto, and in fraud of their rights as such electors; all this at the cities of Baltimore and Washington during the month of October, 1864."

The Judge Advocate, after reading the charge and specification, called upon the prisoners to plead. Mr. FERRY stated he plead guilty to a part of the charge and specification; he had signed some papers, but not all with which he was charged. Upon being informed that he could plead the exact facts, and understanding the nature of his plea, Mr. FERRY stated he desired some time to recruit his health and to obtain counsel. He named a gentleman in Baltimore, who was sent for. DONAHUE then objected to be tried by a military commission, andj also to being tried separate from Mr. FERRY. He then plead not guilty to the accusation, and asked delay in order to obtain counsel. He desired REVERDY JOHNSON to be sent for, but he not being in the city he asked a sufficient delay to enable him to send to Albany. The court complied with this request, and adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. DONAHUE then telegraphed to Hon. SANFORD E. CHURCH, New-York, and to PETER CAGGER, at Albany, with the expectation that one of those gentlemen will be present to act as his counsel.

SECOND DISPATCH.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Oct. 27.

After the adjournment of the Military Commission this morning, Mr. M. J. FERRY, the most respectable of the two prisoners put on trial to-day, stated to the Judge-Advocate that he desired to make a confession of all he knew in connection with those fraudulent and forged papers. His request was complied with, and his confession was written out in the usual form of questions and answers. When he had concluded the court reassembled, and Judge-Advocate FOSTER made to the court a statement embodying the facts confessed by FERRY, which I have thus condensed:

CONFESSION OF M. J. JERRY, THE STATE AGENT OF GOV. SEYMOUR.

I do not recollect the time when the first papers were forged, but it was in the presence of ORVILLE K. WOOD, of Clinton County, New-York. It was done in my office, No. 85 Fayette-street, Baltimore. I am, and have been for the past two years, the agent of the State of New-York, appointed by Gov. SEYMOUR, to look after the sick and wounded soldiers of New-York. I first saw WOOD on Wednesday of last week at my office. He came and represented himself as an agent of the Central Committee of his county to look after its local ticket. We talked about the way in which votes could be taken, It was agreed that we should sign the names of officers and soldiers, and then send them home to have the local tickets filled in. I made out such papers. I signed the names of soldiers on quite a number of them. I cannot tell what names we signed. The papers are in the bundle now on the table. I did not sign the names of officers, but DONAHUE signed any quantity of them. There was a large package of these papers left with me, which I destroyed. That package contained over 200 that DONAHUE had signed. The idea of forging these papers was first suggested by a man named STEPHEN MAXSON. He is from the western part of the State of New-York—I do not know from what county. He is not in the service; he is a State agent. I cannot say at what time it was first proposed to forge the papers, but it was about two weeks ago. I do not think there was anybody present but DONAHUE and myself when MAXSON first proposed to forge papers. There was a man named G. M. BUNDY in my office. He is now in New-York. Also, a man named H. NEWCOMB. I never saw him until he came there. He is a lawyer in Albany. Part of the forged papers were made in my office and part brought there. They were usually brought in a bundle tied up. I do not know who brought them. I had no letters from PETER CAGGER except what were found in my desk. I never knew of any correspondence on the subject with Gen. FARRELL, the Commissary of Subsistence, except the package which you have. The package contained a lot of blank envelopes and powers of attorney, with a letter from Gen. FARRELL, marked "confidential," which contained a list of names of residents of Columbia County, I did not let any one know that I destroyed the forged papers left with me, but told my associates that I sent them to different parts of the State to be mailed. A young man came from Washington on Friday or Saturday last, saying if I had any spare blanks to send them over to Washington. I am not certain whether he did or did not say anything about there being some men over there who could attend to these matters. I do not know how many forged papers were sent off, but I heard them say they sent them from Washington by the dry goods box full. I do not recollect hearing them talk dispairingly, but they talked quite jubilantly. I sent the forged papers to Gen. FARRELL, with the following letter:

BALTIMORE, Oct, 22, 1864.

MY DEAR SIR: If you are energetic, you will be able to get the within votes all arranged for the 8th of November. I should have done more to them, but I have not time. They are all on the square—the same as the blacks get theirs. Neither would bear close scrutiny. ED. DONAHUE said send this on to you, and I have done it. Truly, yours,

DEMOCRAT.

P. S.—They are all soldiers—companies and regiments all O. K. Of the rest I have nothing to say. If you have no use for them, send them back.

M. J. FERRY, No. 85 West Fayette-street, Baltimore.

HENRY NEWCOMB, implicated by FERRY, has also made a complete and full confession. The Judge-Advocate was understood to present a plea of guilty on behalf of Mr. FERRY, and to ask on his behalf the clemency of the court.

The court accepted the plea of the prisoners and thus closed the case, leaving DONOHUE to be tried separately as he desired. Developments made to-day show these frauds to have been carefully and skillfully contrived, and that they have been carried through with the most reckless disregard of law. The disclosures also connect leading and influential men of the State of New-York with these attempts to tamper with the ballot boxes, but I am not now at liberty to give their names, fearing that they might through such information, escape arrest and consequent punishment.

The court charged with the labor of investigating and passing upon these frauds is a tribunal of more than usual intelligence, vigor and experience. It will do its entire duty, and do it promptly fearlessly and well.

The honest electors of the State of New-York have escaped an extensive and fearful fraud, a fraud in keeping with the proclivities of the party in whose behalf it was initiated, but one that, if unexposed might have subverted the honest will of the people, and left the State and the nation at the mercy of those who would make peace with rebellion, and fellowship with traitors.

Thank God for the decree that assures us that crime cannot long go unknown and unpunished.

From Washington—Further Arrests—A Number of Parties Implicated.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 27.

Col. NORTH, New-York State Agent in this city, together with all his assistants and clerks, were, between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon, arrested by the military authorities, and committed to the Old Capitol Prison, upon the charges of forgery and fraud, in obtaining and preparing soldiers' proxies and votes, to be used at the coming election in November. It is also stated that large quantities of proxies have been manufactured, purporting to represent the names of soldiers, but which in reality are fictitious, or contain the pretended signatures of men who have died long since in the field and hospital. It would be improper at this time to mention the details or the witnesses by which this infamous plot was discovered. But these and other parties arrested elsewhere, will be at once brought to trial and summarily dealt with.

The Frauds on the New-York Electors in the Army.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Oct. 27.

It is alleged that extensive frauds have been discovered in this city and Washington, on the part of some of the Commissioners of New-York State to receive and forward the votes of soldiers. Two State agents, N. J. FERRY, of Canton, St. Lawrence County, and EDWARD DONOHUE, of Albany, have been arrested, and were brought for trial this morning before the Military Commission of which Maj.-Gen. ABNER DOUBLEDAY is President, and Col. JOHN A. FOSTER, of the One Hundred and Seventy-fifth New-York, Judge Advocate.

On the conclusion of the reading of the above charges, FERRY plead guilty to a portion of the charges, and said he signed the names of some. In answer to Judge-Advocate FOSTER, who stated that his pleading to the charge should be either general or special, he said he desired to have counsel. He was informed that he could send for any person he should choose as his counsel, and immediately sent for a lawyer of this city. DONOHUE plead a general denial of the whole affair, and wanted to be represented by counsel from Albany of New-York. He said he thought the matter belonged to a civil tribunal instead of a military. He requested to know if REVERDY JOHNSON was to be had, as he was confident he would defend him. Gen. DOUBLEDAY and Judge Advocate Gen. FOSTER said they had no objection to postpone the case as the prisoners had no counsel, in order to allow them to obtain it, and accordingly adjourned till Friday, at 10 o'clock.

DONOHUE then telegraphed to PETER CAGGER and SANDFORD E. CHURCH, notifying them of their arrest, and desiring them to obtain counsel for them immediately.

It is stated that seven dry goods boxes of votes for the Democratic National, and State nominees have been forwarded from here by express. Several packages of the alleged forged tickets are in the hands of the Commission, with letters, etc., involving parties in New-York.

Important additional disclosures are expected to morrow. Some letters and documents will be adduced of great importance. It is understood that the fraud was discovered by a Clinton County agent of the Union Committee, who called upon FERRY to make certain inquiries. FERRY mistook his political character, and discovered the matter to him. When, after obtaining a full knowledge of the facts, he communicated the matter to Gen. WALLACE, when the parties were arrested.

IMPROVED MANNERS OF GUERRILLAS.

The War in the Southwest.

LOUISVILLE, Thursday, Oct. 27.

To-day's Nashville Despatch, reports that the rebel Gen. LYON crossed near the mouth of the White Oak Creek.

A Huntsville dispatch says that no rebel force had passed over the Whitesburgh and Warrenton road. Tuesday night a soldier of the Forty-fourth United States colored infantry, who had escaped from HOOD's army says a part of HOOD's forces, he thinks LEE's corps, are making for Whitesburgh.

A Clayville dispatch says: "The Captain of the gunboat Gen. Thomas reports when coming up the river having seen picket and post fires from the mountain tops toward Guntersville and opposite Deposit. The only troops he saw were cavalry. A Federal soldier—a prisoner since the attack on Dalton—who escaped, has arrived at Clayville. He reports that he left the main force of HOOD's army Tuesday morning, 28,000 strong, at Warrenton. He understood the rebels intended crossing the Tennessee in the vicinity of Guntersville.

PRISONERS OF WAR.

Mutual Arrangement to Alleviate Their Sufferings.

Correspondence between Gen. Grant and Gen. Lee.

Supplies to be Forwarded to Prisoners North and South.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 27.

It will gladden the whole country and carry joy and heart's-ease to hundreds of thousands of homes to learn that an arrangement has been made whereby those who linger in Southern prisons will henceforth receive adequate supplies of food and clothing. In the impossibility of a general exchange of prisoners, it is a matter of rejoicing that their sufferings will be thus far alleviated, and they made as comfortable as it is possible for men in captivity to be. The agreement, looking to this beneficent end, has just been concluded between Gens. GRANT and LEE, and only awaits the settlement of practical details to take immediate effect.

The proposition, be it said to the credit of the rebels, came from themselves, and was first made in communication under date of the 6th inst., addressed by Mr. OULD, Confederate Agent of Exchange, to Maj.-Gen. HITCHCOCK, Commissioner of Exchange for the United States. Mr. OULD's communication in substance recited that as there is a prospect of a large number of prisoners being held by both sides during the coming Winter, it is desirable that each belligerent, without being freed from the obligation of feeding and clothing the prisoners held by them respectively, should be allowed to furnish their own captives in the other's hands with such additional comfort as humanity may prompt. He therefore proposed that we shall be permitted to send to the South clothing, blankets and supplies for our prisoners in the hands of the Confederates; they being allowed to do the same by their prisoners in our hands. He further proposed that they shall be allowed to purchase abroad the articles intended for their prisoners held by us.

This overture was referred to Gen. GRANT, who replied in a communication to Gen. LEE, under date of the 18th inst., accepting Mr. OULD's proposition, and stating that he was authorized by the Secretary of War to make arrangements for the mutual relief of prisoners held by the two parties. "Looking," he adds, "entirely to the alleviation of the sufferings of those held in captivity, I will not interpose any obstacle to any plan that may be agreed upon that gives equal privileges to both belligerents."

Gen. LEE, on the following day, Oct. 19, replied to Gen. GRANT, acknowledging the receipt of his communication, and stated that he took it as an acceptance on the part of Gen. GRANT of Mr. OULD's plan. He suggested further, that the articles sent to the prisoners should be confined to articles of necessity and comfort, as clothing, blankets, meat, bread, coffee, sugar, pickles, vinegar and tobacco; and proposed that an officer from each side should be specially detailed and paroled to see to the faithful execution of the arrangement.

On the following day, Oct. 20, Gen. GRANT rejoined, stating that Gen. LEE had rightly understood his former communication in the sense of an acceptance of Mr. OULD's proposition, and reiterated his solicitude for the well-being of our prisoners, as well as those of the rebels. "It is," declared Gen. GRANT, "my desire that all prisoners of war should be made as comfortable as it is possible for prisoners under restraint to be, and I will favor any proposition looking to that end." Gen. GRANT, moreover, requested that a detailed plan should be made for carrying this purpose into effect.

This communication closes all of this interesting correspondence between Gens. GRANT and LEE that has so far taken place, and thus the matter now rests. It is earnestly to be hoped that the practical details will be completed with all possible promptitude, so as to permit this beneficent measure to take immediate effect.

It is certainly a matter of congratulation that it should be in such hands as those of GRANT and LEE, whose practical wisdom and humane disposition cannot be doubted.

There are at present insuperable obstacles in the way of an exchange of prisoners; obstacles rendered insuperable by the violations of the cartel on the part of the rebel authorities; but there is no reason why these technical differences should be allowed to stand in the way of the comfort, well-being and even the life of those in bonds; we are sure that, if the relatives and friends of those in Southern prisons can be assured of the faithful observance of the benign provisions of the convention just concluded by Gens. GRANT and LEE, it will modify their anguish at the continued captivity of those they love, and whose release on terms of justice and honor the Government finds it impossible to effect.

WILLIAM SWINTON.

THE MILITARY SITUATION.

Hopeful Aspect of the Field—The Failure of Hood's Movements Against Sherman's Communications—Hood in a Worse Position than Ever—The Situation Before Richmond.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 27.

The military situation presents to-day, over the whole field, the most satisfactory and encouraging aspect. In the West, the offensive movement designed to dislodge SHERMAN from Atlanta has ended by depriving the rebels of all foothold in Georgia. The closeness with which SHERMAN followed up the aggressive movement of the rebel force, completely frustrated their designs against his communications, all the damage from which has now been repaired. But it did more than this. The tenacity with which SHERMAN clung to the rear of HOOD, made it impossible for him to retrace his steps, and has compelled BEAUREGARD to seek safety for his army, by drawing it into Central Alabama. This throws him off eccentrically from all connection with the main rebel army, in Virginia, puts into the hands of SHERMAN the control of all the communications between the rebel army in the East and the rebel army in the West, and opens up his triumphal lines of conquest clear to the Gulf.

This vaunted campaign which, according to the JEFF. DAVIS programme, was to have turned our position in Georgia to a Moscow retreat, stands to-day demonstrated a miserable failure. It not only has brought the rebels no advantage, but has placed them in a much worse position than when HOOD held a front south of Atlanta with open communications with LEE.

The situation before Petersburgh and Richmond is really hopeful. Gen. GRANT, far from lying idle during the past few weeks of seeming inactivity, has been steadily pushing forward his lines of circumvallation and contravallation, working with fatal pressure on the vital arteries of Richmond.

A member of the Southern Express Company at Petersburgh, who has just arrived within our lines, states that the express agent at that point was last week notified that the agency at Petersburgh must be broken up, as there would be no further use for an express office there. The employes were politely invited to enter the army instanter. I am further informed, by the same authority, that Petersburgh is for the most part evacuated, and that Gen. LEE has materially contracted his lines, and that they expect the city to fall at the first serious move by Gen. GRANT.

GREAT FRENCH UNION MEETING.

Unanimous Ratification of the Union Platform.

Responding to a call issued by the committee, a large assemblage of our most enlightened French citizens gathered last evening at Hope Chapel, to indorse the principles enunciated in the Baltimore Platform, and ratify the nomination of ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON. The enthusiasm evidenced on this and various other occasions by the French residents of the metropolis, gives ample proof of their unfeigned devotion to the cause of Union, and of their determination to eradicate the curse of slavery from the soil of their adopted land. The hall being completely filled at 8 o'clock, the meeting was called to order by Mr. CHARLES VILLA, who nominated for Chairman, Mr. PELLETIER, and for Secretary, Mr. VICTOR FAIDER, which nominations were ratified. The chairman, after a few preliminary remarks, which were loudly applauded, introduced to the audience Mr. VICTOR FAIDER, who proceeded, in substance, as follows:

CITIZENS: A certain philosopher, who framed a code of laws, therein decreed that any man who abstained from taking part in the political battles of his country, should be punished with the severest penalties. He was right, citizens; for when a country is in danger, to stay in the background is to commit a crime. I think that we must not render ourselves liable to any such impeachment, and should commence by examining the question we have before us for discussion. Some four years ago, we elected a President, and now believe that it is most consistent with the good of humanity to renominate for four years that old rail-splitter, or rather that old slavery-splitter. [Great applause.] The Democratic party, however, would have us vote for MCCLELLAN. Now, come, let us see upon what grounds they argue that our cause is not a holy one. They say that the war is a failure and that we commenced the strife with the South. Why, we had a most constitutional election some four years since, the vote was legally polled, and ABRAHAM LINCOLN was duly elected President. And then, what did the South do? Did the Secessionists await LINCOLN's inauguration? On the 18th of December, they declared, at Charleston, that they seceded. On the 15th of January, Florida and Tennessee withdrew and by the 1st of February all the now belligerent States had seceded; and LINCOLN had not even then been inaugurated. And yet MCCLELLAN, in his letter of acceptance, says that the war was commenced for the maintenance of the Union! Did not the South first insult that glorious flag of liberty, equality and fraternity? [Great enthusiasm.] And that wrong must be avenged, and we must continue this war and crush the South! [Applause.] They argue that this Administration is an arbitrary and violent one. I should rather say it had been too lenient. [Applause.] Has Mr. LINCOLN done anything unauthorized by Congress? Has he taken upon himself to violate the habeas corpus writ unjustly? Pray, does it not state in the Constitution that it may be suspended in time of rebellion? I should like to know what time we are living in. Speak of the liberty of the press. We read in the Democratic journals that Mr. LINCOLN is an idiot, an assassin; Mr. BUTLER a beast, such as never existed in the days of Rome, and they actually say that freedom of the press does not exist. [Laughter.] Speak of the abolition of slavery: thrice has Mr. LINCOLN endeavored to do away with it. He first wished to indemnify the slaveholders; then he declared that on conquered territory all slaves should be free; finally, he issued his proclamation. They declare that the country is bankrupt. After this, the greatest of wars, we owe $1,800,000,000, and the wretched partisans of the South exclaim that for such a paltry sum the United States will be bankrupt. When we entered upon this war we had no cannon, no guns, no men—and now, behold, we have given birth to a grand and admirable military organization! [Applause.] Some will tell you that all this is worthless. A few days since a European soldier said that no nation in Europe could bring together, feed and drill such an army as SHERMAN's! [Cheers.] When France had on its hands billions of assignats, what happened then? Not one cent was paid;—and are now the citizens any the less prosperous? And you may glance at our little wretched debt and exclaim in horror, if you dare! They ask what have we done. Have we not shielded from the eyes of foreign nations the sight, the brutal sight of men, women and children dragged forth and sold in the public squares at Washington, as though they were cattle? [Cheers.] Have we not wrested from tyrants miles of territory once cultivated by shackled beings, but which cannot henceforth be tilled save by freemen. [Great applause.] They argue that the war has not progressed. That was when MCCLELLAN was looking at the Quaker guns at Manassas, or treading the deck of the gunboat Galena. [Laughter.] We are now victorious and have reached the very heart of secession. All the Southern ports, save Wilmington, are ours, and yet we have not progressed! Thus, citizens, we review in vain all the reproaches with which the Administration is assailed, and find no grounds for any one. We may still hope for victory. We may all assist in the reconstruction of the grand old edifice of Union, which will be rid of that stain of slavery. We will then turn to old Europe and cry to our brethren, who are yonder in the majority, and say: Let the old French population arise, overwhelm all obstacles, and firmly establish a new form of government. Then will we, from the other shores, hand in hand with our foreign brethren, give birth to true democratic principles and stand united against all. [Loud and continued applause.]

The Chairman then introduced Mr. LOUIS COHEN, whose remarks, illustrative of the progress of the human race, the ever increasing influence of liberty upon the welfare of humanity, and the true theory of Republicanism, was loudly applauded.

The Chairman stepped forward and introduced Mr. CHAS. VILLA, who stated that he had received a letter from Gen. CLUSERET of the New Nation, setting forth that serious indisposition had prevented his attendance. Gen. CLUSERET's letter was an ardent appeal to all patriotic citizens to enlist in the ranks of Republicanism and sustain ABRAHAM LINCOLN, the sworn foe of slavery. The principles enunciated in the letter having been indorsed and loudly applauded by the assemblage, the Chairman declared the meeting adjourned.

THE WAR IN MISSOURI

PRICE'S ARMY HARD PUSHED.

The Rebels Again Defeated Near Fort Scott.

Gens. Marmaduke and Cabell Taken Prisoners.

1,500 Rebels and 12 Pieces of Artillery Captured.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, Oct. 27.

The Democrat's dispatch from Leavenworth says: PRICE has been driven below Fort Scott, closely pursued by our cavalry. We have captured a large number of prisoners, including Gens. MARMADUKE and CABELL, and several pieces of artillery.

Gen. ROSECRANS was at Little Santa Fe, twelve miles south of Kansas City, with his infantry, on Tuesday night.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, Oct. 27.

The following is derived from an entirely reliable source. Our forces have been driving PRICE rapidly since Sunday, and at last accounts he was twenty-five or thirty miles southeast of Fort Scott, and his army routed and dispersed.

On Tuesday we had several fights with him between Mound City and Fort Scott, in all of which he was badly whipped, losing one thousand five hundred prisoners and ten or twelve pieces of artillery.

Among the prisoners are Maj.-Gen. MARMADUKE and Brig.-Gen. CABELL, several Colonels and other officers.

PRICE was again attacked yesterday morning a short distance north of Fort Scott, and driven pell mell in a southeasterly direction. He burned 200 wagons yesterday, to prevent their being captured.

Nothing is stated about the loss of either side, but there seems to be no doubt that PRICE's army is completely demoralized and scattered.

The telegraph is working to Fort Scott, but nothing has been received in regard to to-day's operations, except that our forces are still in vigorous pursuit.

Gen. STEELE, with heavy reinforcements, is at Fort Smith, with the probable view of contesting PRICE's entrance into Arkansas.

Guerrilla Operations in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Thursday, Oct. 27.

Dispatches in the border papers say that a train from Fort Smith was attacked by bushwhackers south of Fort Scott, sixteen men killed and a part of the train burned. About 1,500 refugees accompanied the train.

About 100 guerrillas, under Capt. TAYLOR, entered Marmouton, a few miles from Fort Scott, at 12 o'clock Saturday night, and murdered Col. KNOWLES, BROWN, HAWKINS, MCGONIGLE, CHADWICK and STOUT, who were en route North, and old Squire REYNOLDS and two other citizens, and burned two stores and churches and several dwellings.

The Federal loss in the battle of the 23d was 75. The wounded were sent to Leavenworth on Monday. The rebels were chased all Sunday night. Constant fighting with their rear guard was kept up. At daylight they made a stand, and were handsomely whipped again.

Most of the Kansas militia have gone home. Martial law is abolished and business is resumed.

Five hundred rebels under Lieut.-Col. MCDANIELS, crossed the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad on Monday, going north. A strong force has been sent after them.

Advices from the Upper Missouri say that Gen. SULLY has gone into Winter quarters at Fort Sully. The Winnebago Indians are in a starving condition.

PRESIDENTIAL.

The Campaign in Connecticut.

Rousing Demonstration in Bridgeport.

Twenty Thousand Union Men in Council—Fairfield County Awake—Immense Enthusiasm.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Thursday, Oct. 27.

The most magnificent political celebration ever known in the State of Connecticut was held to-day in this city. It was expected to be a grand affair, but it has exceeded all our expectations. "Old Glory" triumphantly floats from thousands of places. From flagstaffs, across the streets, from windows, and from the hands of earnest men and fair women. It has been a great gala day for the supporters of "Honest Abe." The decorations exceed anything of the kind ever before witnessed. The Sterling Hotel was decorated by the proprietor's son, GIRARD WILSON, with a flag from every window, and many other attractions. The procession was some five miles long. New-Haven, Norwalk, New-Canaan, Stamford, Darien, Newtown, and nearly every town in the county was represented. ELIAS HOWE, Jr., raised the tallest liberty pole in New-England. He was bound to get the Stars and Stripes as near heaven as he could. To-night his immense factory is illuminated from top to bottom. It is a splendid sight. Hon. LEWIS B. CAMPBELL and Hon. HENRY J. RAYMOND made two powerful and impressive speeches. To-night Franklin Hall is crowded to overflowing. Gen. O. S. FERRY and Gen. E. W. GANTT are speaking. The enthusiasm of the people is beyond anything we have ever known in any campaign. Heads up—skies bright. We will give you a good report Nov. 8. The "Coppers" are squelched.

F. W. SMITH, JR., Ex-Com.

Union Gathering at Philadelphia—Speech of Hon. S. P. Chase.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 27.

There was a brilliant and enthusiastic meeting this evening at the Union League Hall, on the occasion of an oration on the great issues of the day, by the Hon. SALMON P. CHASE. The spacious hall, notwithstanding a rainy evening, was crowded to overflowing. The hall was handsomely illuminated, and the League house opposite was also gay under the effulgence of many jets of gas.

The distinguished speaker captivated his auditors. After he had concluded his remarks, quite a number of gentlemen who voted with the Democrats at the recent election, pressed forward to shake hands with him. The evening was one that will make an entertaining page in the history of the Union League of Philadelphia.

Columbia County—Up-hill Work for the Copperheads.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

HUDSON, Thursday, Oct. 27.

JOHN VAN BUREN addressed a slim audience at the City Hall, this P. M. Great efforts had been made by the Democracy to make a grand demonstration. The result of their efforts is mortifying in the extreme to the friends of "Little Mac" in this county.

THURSDAY, Oct. 27—P. M.

There is a large amount of Money seeking employment to-day in Government Stocks and Treasury paper in the absence of a sufficient demand from the Brokers at 7 ℘ cent. at call to absorb the balances at Bank and on the Street. Some of the leading Brokers get Money at call as cheap as 6 ℘ cent., but as a rule lenders prefer to purchase Governments paying Gold Interest or Treasury Certificates in Currency at discount, to accepting less than 7 ℘ cent. The business in the various descriptions of Government paper at the Stock Exchange and on Wall-street to-day is reported heavy in amount, and at an improvement of ¼@½ ℘ cent. over yesterday's sales. There is not much done in Mercantile paper, or against the competition in the open market of the Public Securities of the United States, nor is there any considerable amounts of paper offering on the Street. The Fall engagements of the Merchants are running out, and new undertakings are made with caution. Most of the purchases of the Importers and Domestic Commission and Grocery houses are made cash, or equal to cash on 30 days settlements.

The Gold Room was under less excitement to-day than customary. The speculation ran between 214½@216½ ℘ cent.; the quotation at 3 o'clock being about 215½ ℘ cent. Bills on London for Saturday's steamer are quoted 109@109½ for Gold at 60 days, and 110½@110¾ for sight. The inquiry is still quite moderate, creating no marked export demand for Gold. The Customs demand this week is fair.

The Stock Exchange shows decided activity to-day, and a very large business was done in some of the Railways, and liberal bids made on others without bringing forward free sellers. The feature of the day's business at both sessions of the Board is the rapid advance on a very large demand for Philadelphia and Reading Stock. The price opened at 126 ℘ cent., and left off 130½ ℘ cent., after a business of 30,000 or 35,000 shares. The stock had previously shown much firmness for several days, and the market moved up with ease on the appearance of several large orders to buy from influential quarters. An impression was made in the Board this afternoon that the Management in Philadelphia, yielding to the known wishes of their heavy shareholders, will make a more liberal division of the profits of the road this Winter than last. The dividends are usually paid in January, but the next Dividend may possibly be declared in advance of the usual time.

The general market, with few exceptions, was firm throughout the day, and closed in the afternoon about as follows, as compared with 4 o'clock yesterday. The later sales at the Evening Exchange will be reported on another page of this paper.

The following official correspondence repeats and makes final the decision of the Treasury Department that the outstanding 7-30 ℘ cents. of 1861, due 1st October, 1864, are not receivable for Customs. Although certain Wall-street parties have attempted to speculate upon the chances of turning this paper into Gold through the Custom-house, we have never, for a moment, entertained the belief that it could, or would, or ought to be done. Mr. Secretary CHASE removed all doubt on the subject to the satisfaction of the holders of the 7-30s more than a year ago, since when about nine-tenths of them have converted their Notes into the Gold-bearing Stock of 1881.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Oct. 26, 1864.

SIR: It having been represented to the Secretary that there is an impression obtaining that a decision is about to be promulgated by this department, to the effect that the old 7.30 notes will be received in payment of duties, he directs me to transmit the inclosed copy of a letter addressed to ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD, and to add that that decision is final. Very respectfully,

GEO. HARRINGTON,
Assistant Secretary.

To JOHN A. STEWART, Assistant Treasurer, New-York.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Sept. 24, 1864.

Elliott F. Shepard, Esq., New-York:

SIR—I am in receipt of your letter of September 21, in which you suggest, on behalf of yourself and clients, that the question whether the notes of the issue of 1861, known as Seven-thirties, are receivable for duties, be referred for decision either to Judge BETTS, of the United States District Court, or to the Attorney-General. In the discharge of my official duties I have already found it necessary to examine and consider fully the subject here presented, and have formed and repeatedly expressed the opinion that these notes are not so receivable.

The question being therefore decided, in so far as its decision rests with this Department, I must decline giving my assent to the proposed reference.

Respectfully,
W. P. FESSENDEN,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Butter is in fair request at 38c.@48c. for poor to prime State, and 30c.@40c. for Western ℘ lb. Cheese continues in moderate demand at 14c.@22c., the latter for choice, ℘ lb. The week's business in Butter and Cheese, Messrs. M. W. STARIN & Co. review, thus:

The week's Butter market opened with a little more firmness, owing to a small advance in Gold, and more favorable advices from the California markets, but any attempt at an advance in rates was promptly checked by the withdrawal of buyers. We note sales of some heavy invoices of fine State Dairy, for California, at 48c. ℘ lb. English shippers are still compelled to be out of market, the present market prices being totally out of reach for their trade, although our latest English advices show a good demand for fine American at 110s.@112s. ℘ cwt. Farmers and dairymen still continue to hold back their stock for prices the market is unable to sustain, leaving the demand for consumption and shipment unsupplied, while the stocks of Butter continue to accumulate enormously in every dairy district. The whole trade is at present characterized by doubt and uncertainty, and dealers of all classes and consumers of Butter buy carefully and sparingly for their immediate wants. An advance in the rate of Gold to 240 may possibly sustain present quotations, but without such an advance the chances are again strongly in favor of another heavy decline in prices just as soon as the stock is moved; present prices will only then be maintained by holding back their fine dairies of Butter until the next Spring's weather shall change Butter to grease. A scarcity of fresh pail Butters caused the few receivers of that stock to put the price at 60c. ℘ lb., but the attempt only partially succeeded. A few packages are carefully selected at 60c. while the stock is accumulating, and is offered at from 45c.@60c. The market closes quite unsettled, and with a tendency to lower prices. We quote:

The demand for Cheese in the early part of the week was quite active for export, owing to a continuance of favorable advices from England, and an advance in the rates of Sterling Exchange. Toward the close, however, the improvement was lost, and the market dull and heavy at lower prices. The stock on this market is now quite large, and constantly accumulating; while the farmers and proprietors of cheese factories, having cheese on hand, show considerable anxiety to move their stock. The tendency to lower prices appears to be quite decided. We quote:

[OFFICIAL.]

CHAMBER OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN, }
Wednesday, October 26—4 o'clock, P. M. }

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.

The Special Committee on Retrenchment and Reform of the Board of Aldermen met this day, pursuant to the following published notice, and for the purpose therein stated:

CORPORATION NOTICE.—The Special Committee of the Board of Aldermen on Retrenchment and Reform, to whom were referred sundry charges of malpractices in the Department of the City Inspector, including particularly a communication from the Mayor, transmitting certain affidavits, made by persons who claim to have paid money, or other valuable consideration, for the purpose of obtaining subordinate positions in the said Department, will meet in the Chamber of the Board of Aldermen, in the City Hall, on Wednesday next, the 26th instant, at 4 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of investigating the charges contained in such affidavits. His Honor the Mayor, and all other persons interested in the question, are respectfully requested to be present.

JOHN HARDY,
LEWIS R. RYERS,
JOHN D. OTTIWELL,
Special Committee.

Present—Alderman John Hardy, Chairman, and Alderman Lewis R. Ryers.

Mr. J. B. Auld—I appear on behalf of the Mayor to inform the committee that the Mayor desires to be represented by Judge Whiting as counsel.

Mr. William B. Rankin—Judge Whiting requested me to say that it would be impossible for him to be here to-day. He is now engaged in the trial of a cause. He authorized me to say that if the committee would adjourn, he would be present at any time on twenty-four hours' notice.

The Chairman—The Chairman would state, on behalf of the Special Committee, that immediately on these charges being presented to the Common Council, they were referred to this committee, and the committee, impressed with their importance, called a meeting for the earliest hour practicable. The clerk was directed to notify the Mayor, City Inspector, and all persons supposed to be specially interested. If the persons preferring these charges wish delay, I, for one, see no objection to it. But the committee wish to give the persons against whom these charges are brought the earliest opportunity of meeting them.

Mr. Rankin—I do not appear in the case. I know nothing of the charges, more than I have read in the Transcript, and, as a matter of course, would not like to go on and conduct this investigation in the absence of Mr. Whiting.

Mr. Thomas N. Carr—I would state that when I left Judge Whiting, he stated to me that it would be necessary for him to be out of town to-day. I had no knowledge of this committee meeting to-day, until between the hours of eleven and twelve, and I was not aware that the witnesses had been requested to attend. I regret to find that there should have been any cause whatever to investigate the charges against the City Inspector and his department. The witnesses are most anxious to have this case examined into, particularly since the appearance in the public prints of the City Inspector's last letter. I can only express my deep regret that Judge Whiting is not present. I should prefer the proceedings would go on, but in deference to Judge Whiting's request, probably it would be better to defer it to some early period. It is a matter of vast importance to the reputation of officials high in office to be stained with a crime such as they are charged with at the present time. If they are innocent of that crime, the public should know it; if they are guilty they should be punished, and I am confident that Judge Whiting is anxious to be present at the earliest possible moment. I am willing to have this case postponed, but hope it will be to as early a day as possible.

Mr. Rankin—I will state that Judge Whiting says he will be ready at any time on twenty-four hours' notice.

Mr. J. D. Williamson—I would say on behalf of the Citizens' Association that we had seen nothing of the meeting of this committee until 12 o'clock to-day in the Transcript.

The Chairman—I am informed by the Clerk that a notice of this meeting was published in the daily papers of yesterday, both morning and evening.

The City Inspector—In behalf of the City Inspector's office we have no lawyer. I would like to place in the hands of the committee some affidavits, and also some papers of the office, which can be done at this time as well as any other. However, I do not insist on proceeding at present. I suggest this merely to save time.

The Chairman—I would ask, Mr. Williamson, whether the Citizens' Association make the request that they be represented by you?

Mr. Williamson—They have.

The Chairman—As counsel on their behalf?

Mr. Williamson—As counsel. Mr. Sands sent down that word to me. They will have counsel at the next meeting of the committee.

Alderman Ryers—I would ask you if there is any information which you expect to obtain between now and to-morrow that will assist you in the investigation as the representative of the association?

Mr. Williamson—Yes, sir; we have a large mass of evidence that we will have to have time to prepare.

Alderman Ryers—It is not presumed that we will complete our work to-day even if we commence. Each witness will have to be examined; and unless you think it is very important, imperatively so, and that you require additional evidence, we would prefer to go on with the investigation to-day.

Mr. Williamson—You have a large mass of evidence and of witnesses, and you will not be able to get through in a week. I want to notify all these witnesses to be present until they are examined.

After consultation,

The Chairman—The committee have considered the proposition made that an adjournment take place. The committee, as you see, are not fully represented to-day, and the two that are present, cannot agree upon a plan of conducting the investigation. They, therefore, propose that the three meet to-morrow, and determine upon what plan they will proceed, and then they will meet on Saturday, at 1 P. M., and proceed with the investigation. The plan will be announced at that meeting. My colleague suggests that the counsel be notified of the plan to-morrow, by written notice.

The chairman called the roll of witnesses, and notified all to be present on Saturday next, at 1 P. M.

The committee then adjourned.

E. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The country will be rejoiced to learn that an agreement has been entered into between Gens. Grant and Lee which will greatly alleviate the sufferings of Union prisoners in the South. By the terms of this agreement, the details of which have not yet been definitely settled, we shall be permitted to send to the South clothing, blankets and supplies for our prisoners in the hands of the Confederates; they, in return, being allowed to do the same by their prisoners in our hands. It is proposed that an officer from each side should be specially detailed and paroled to see to the faithful execution of the arrangement, and that the articles sent to the prisoners should be confined to articles of necessity and comfort, as clothing, blankets, meat, bread, coffee, sugar, pickles, vinegar and tobacco.

The Government has just discovered an atrocious and startling system of frauds designed to cheat the people of the State of New-York out of the results of the legitimate voting on election day. Several so-called "State Agents" and "Voting Agents" appointed by Gov. Seymour, have been arrested in Baltimore and Washington, charged with having prepared fraudulent proxies, filled them up and forged the names of officers and soldiers to them; also, signed them with the names of soldiers long since dead, or out of the service, and using also fictitious names of soldiers for the same purpose. Four parties have been arrested in Baltimore and several in Washington. One of the parties arrested in Baltimore, M. J. Ferry, an agent of the State of New-York for the care of sick and wounded soldiers, has made a free confession of his part in the transaction, from which it appears that thousands of these votes had already been circulated, and that the crime is barely discovered in time to thwart its consummation. The guilty parties are being tried by a military commission and their punishment will be sure and speedy.

Price is at length meeting with rough treatment from the combined forces of Pleasonton, Blunt and Curtis. On the 25th, he was attacked some distance southeast of Fort Scott, in which he lost 1,500 prisoners and twelve pieces of artillery. Gens. Marmaduke and Cabell were captured on Wednesday morning. Price was again attacked, and driven pell-mell south of Fort Scott. Gen. Steele was concentrating at Fort Smith to contest Price's retreat into Arkansas.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Canada arrived yesterday at Halifax, bringing two days' later news from Europe. The report that Capt. Semmes had left England in the blockade-runner Laurel, is denied by the owner of that vessel, who ridicules the idea that the little steamer Ranger, of less than one hundred tons burden, is to be converted into a privateer. A report is current that Jules Gerard, the African explorer, has been drowned. Financial affairs in England continue in a very unsettled state, and several additional suspensions are reported. The Confederate loan experienced a slight improvement on the receipt of the Persia's news, which was considered unfavorable to the North. The Spanish steamer captured by the Niagara had been released. There appears to be some prospect of a speedy peaceful settlement of the Danish question.

GENERAL NEWS.

There was a large business, yesterday, in Government Securities and Railway Shares, the general market being firm. Very heavy transactions occurred in Reading Shares. The market for Money is easy; the Gold Room 214¼@216¼ and free from excitement.

The work goes on most vigorously. Last evening the Union Associations of the Eighth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth Wards held spirited meetings at their respective headquarters. The Veteran Union Club rallied at No. 710 Broadway, the "Liberty Boys" were out in force at Yorkville, and at Cooper Institute there was another mass-meeting, the Hall being crowded to its capacity.

On the evening of the 2d November, the Manhattan Union Club, composed of young men, and a most active and valuable organization, have a grand torchlight procession. This Club has no party connections whatsoever, and its members no political aspirations. The members are at work most effectively and enthusiastically for the Union. Young men are invited to enroll themselves as members, at No. 5 Clinton Hall.

An improved inquiry prevailed yesterday for the principal kinds of produce and merchandise; Breadstuffs, Cotton, Butter and Cheese were firmer. The changes in other articles were not important. The auction sales of dry goods passed off rather more satisfactorily, in the instance of really desirable fabrics. The freight market was quiet.

At a meeting of the General Committee of Tammany Hall, held Oct. 26, the nomination of Anson Herrick for Congress, was repudiated, the Congressional Convention of the Ninth District directed to meet Oct. 30, and nominate another candidate. The reason assigned in the resolutions was the opposition Mr. Herrick has shown to regularly nominated Democratic candidates in other districts.

The Forty-fifth Regiment, N. Y. Volunteers, now stationed at Nashville, Tenn., and consisting exclusively of Germans, have sent their votes to Oscar Hooper, of this city, who formerly served as Captain in this regiment, showing a total of 380 votes for Abraham Lincoln, and not one for Geo. B. McClellan.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Hope Chapel last evening, by the French citizens of this city, for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson. Mr. Charles Villa was elected President, and Mr. Pelletier Secretary. Speeches were made by Messrs. Victor Faider, Louis Cohen and other prominent gentlemen, after which the meeting adjourned.

The Aldermanic Committee on Retrenchment and Reform have decided that, in investigating the Mayor's charges against the City Inspector, each of these officials shall be allowed one counsel each, and that all evidence must be presented through the medium of the respective counsel.

Hon. David A. Mason, of Newton, a well-known lawyer, and one of the prominent Democrats of Massachusetts, has come out publicly for Lincoln and Johnson.

The editor of the Toronto Evening Journal, A. H. St. Germain, Esq., is on a visit to the Eastern States and to this city. The Journal is one of the few Canadian papers which have steadfastly defended the American Union throughout its great struggle for existence, and in this, as well as in its general management, it has exhibited a marked ability.

Rebel papers report that Gen. Standwaite attacked "the enemy" at Cabin Creek, in the Choctow Nation, on the 16th ult., and, after fighting seven hours, defeated them, capturing 250 wagons &c.

The Lynchburgh Virginian, of Friday, states that the extensive Government wagon shops in that place were destroyed by fire on Thursday night. The loss was very heavy. Most of the machinery used in the works and a large quantity of lumber were burned. The buildings covered almost an entire square.

Besides Maj.-Gen. Ramseur mortally wounded in the battle of Cedar Creek, the rebels had Gen. Battle and Gen. Connor, of South Carolina, put hors de combat. The latter was wounded in the leg.

Hon. Chauncey M. Depew and Hon. W. T. B. Milliken will address the Union men of Morrisania to-night.

Hon. James R. Whiting and Major Edmond J. Porter will address the citizens of Rye, Westchester County, this evening, at the Armory, at 8 o'clock, on the momentous issues involved in the approaching election.

Col. Washburne is pushing vigorously the work of contesting the election of Dan. Voorhees to Congress in the Seventh District of Indiana. The proof of fraud accumulates daily, and it is said that a mass of evidence will be presented in support of Washburne's claim to the seat that will carry certain conviction with it that Voorhees owes his certificate of election to the most unblushing frauds.

The Board of Aldermen had no quorum, yesterday, and adjourned to Monday, at 1 o'clock P. M. The Board of Councilmen received the Mayor's message containing the charges against the City Inspector, and referred it to a Special Committee, consisting of Messrs. Brice, Hagerty and Houghtalin. A resolution to strike out the item of $300,000 for cleaning streets from the general appropriation ordinance, was laid over. The retraction is designed in pursuance of a request of the Comptroller, to enable him to straighten his accounts, the Supervisors having declined to levy the $300,000, because it has been found impossible to make a contract for the work for that sum. A resolution by Mr. Brandon was adopted, making the benefits of the Family Aid Fund extend to the families of the one hundred days' men, that full period of time, whether the time of the volunteers is now expired or not. The Board adjourned to 2 P. M. on Monday.

The Young Men's Central Lincoln and Johnson Campaign Club held a grand meeting at Cooper Institute. The Hall was crowded to its utmost with a very enthusiastic audience. A fine band and glee club were in attendance. At about 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order and Mr. Charles S. Spencer, the President of the club, after a short speech introduced as the speaker of the evening Gov. Brough of Ohio. The Governor made a long and patriotic speech, which was listened to attentively to its close.

The New Conspiracy Against Our Soldiers.

The party of the Copperheads, so far as it has been able, has precluded the soldiers who are devoting their lives to their country, from the elective franchise. In every State where it had the control of the Legislature, Indiana, Illinois, New-Jersey and Delaware, it has thwarted every attempt to secure to them the exercise of the first right of American freemen. This was sufficiently base. But intelligence from Washington concerning the conspiracy to falsify the votes of the soldiers in this State displays a depth of villainy in the Copperhead managers beyond all previous conception. We could hardly believe it if it did not come so authenticated as to exclude all doubt of the actual crime. It remains only for the particular details to be exposed by the court-martial already at work. Very full details of the facts as developed yesterday, will be found in this morning's Times.

Horatio Seymour, with the leaders of his party, did his utmost to frustrate every measure enabling the soldier to vote, and interposed his veto against the first bill of the Legislature, on the ground of its infringement of the Constitution. To obviate his objections, an amendment to the Constitution was submitted to the people, and adopted by them with an overwhelming vote. Thus shut off from all chance in that direction, of defeating the measure, his next resort was to insist that the soldier should not deposit his vote directly, but confide it to a proxy, and to attach to the bill many other peculiar restrictions and obstructions. For the purpose of avoiding his veto, the loyal members of the Legislature gave the bill the shape that suited him. Of course, it is impossible to prove that his deliberate design, in insisting on that peculiar shape, was to defraud the soldiers. It is enough to know that it has been converted to that end by the agents sent out under his authority. Under cover of this peculiarly framed law, a work has been commenced by his emissaries of substituting McClellan votes for Lincoln votes in the sealed envelopes actually received from the soldiers, and to fill other envelopes with the same kind of votes in the name of soldiers who were dead, or who had never existed. This crime is immeasurably beyond the other of denying the soldiers their electoral rights, for in that case they would be simply robbed of their rights, while in the other those rights would be turned against them and made the medium of the most atrocious perversion of their real sentiments. Loyal soldiers who wish to support the Government would a thousand times sooner forego voting altogether than be falsely made to contribute to the election of a man whose success they believe would bring the Government to ruin.

We tell these conspirators to beware. No position, either official or social, will much longer shield this high-handed violation of the laws from its due retribution. Of course the plotters of this iniquity will deny their guilt. There is no more limit to their audacity than to their perfidy. We have just seen the amazing hardihood of Vallandigham. In face of the fact that five letters, written and signed by him as Supreme Commander of the Sons of Liberty, were produced at the late Dodd trial in Indianapolis, and identified as his penmanship by his intimate friend, George E. Pugh, and in spite of the clearest and most conclusive evidence that this secret order is a traitorous organization, he yet has had the assurance to aver, in a public communication, that all the charges against him are "absolute falsehoods and fabrications from beginning to end." He might as well deny his own identity. Unconscionable mendacity is one of the satanic means systematically applied by these men to carry out their purposes. They lie for their own concealment just as unscrupulously as they belie the Government.

We believe that investigation will develop that these attempted frauds upon the soldiers are part of the system by which this same secret order of traitors are operating in New-York. It was testified in the Dodd trial, that there were associations in connection with that order in this State, and that they numbered twenty thousand members. The order in the West plots open outbreaks, and a general insurrection; but here they dare not, at least since the experience of the last year riots. But what can they be engaged in, unless in endeavors to defeat the popular will in the coming election? This atrocious scheme of defrauding the soldiers of their votes, requiring as it did great minuteness of detail and secrecy of operation, would be just in their line. The character of Gov. Seymour is by no means such as would protect him from suspicion of affording any facilities within his power to any scheme, however flagitious, calculated to defeat President Lincoln. The investigation, which will be pushed forward with all possible vigor, will soon disclose all.

A Grand Victory for Humanity.

There is joyous news in our columns today—news which will carry relief to tens of thousands of brave men suffering under anguish as great as mortal can endure—greater, in fact, for thousands of them have succumbed under it;—news which will bring relief to hundreds of thousands of the immediate relatives and friends of the sufferers;—news which will give a sense of relief to the millions of this broad continent, who have been horror-struck at the long continued and fearful atrocities of the rebels committed upon our prisoners of war in their hands. A plan, originally at the instance of the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, has been agreed upon between the Union and Confederate military authorities, (Gens. Grant and Lee being the chief correspondents,) by which our Government is permitted to send necessary supplies of food, clothing and medicines to the starving, naked and sick brave men whom the fortunes of war have placed in the power of the rebels. In return for this, our Government is to permit the rebel authorities to purchase abroad such proper supplies as they may desire for the use of their soldiers who are prisoners in our hands.

We suppose that the gross number of prisoners on both sides rises over one hundred thousand—about forty thousand of whom are Union soldiers in rebel hands, and the remaining sixty thousand are rebel prisoners in our hands.

It is three years ago, or shortly after the first prisoners were taken in this war by the rebels, that we began to get authentic reports of the maltreatment of our men in the South. We all remember the cruelties practiced upon those captured at Bull Run, and how the blood of the Northern people almost ran cold at the recital of tales coming in many instances from those who had been the sufferers, and in whose faces, and upon whose persons were the indubitable signs and marks of the truthfulness of their narrations. Time passed on, and the prisoners on both sides increased in number, the preponderance being for a long while with the enemy; and with the growth of time, grew always the evidence of the barbarism, or rather the savagery, or rather the deviltry of the rebels. Horror was piled upon horror, and continually they were spread over a larger surface and applied to a greater number of individuals, till Libby and Belle Isle were magnified into Americus and Andersonville—till the sacrifices of our men were measured not by tens but by hundreds a day—till the volume of horrors swelled into that terrific, thrilling and authentic record styled "Narrative of Privations and Sufferings of United States Officers and Soldiers while Prisoners of War in the Hands of the Rebel Authorities, being the Report of a Commission of Inquiry appointed by the United States Sanitary Commission, with an Appendix containing the Testimony;" and the accuracy and truthfulness of which was certified by the venerable Dr. Valentine Mott, by Dr. Delafield, by Judge Hare, by Mr. Wilkins, and Rev. Mr. Walden, Rector of St. Clement's Church, Philadelphia.

Thank Heaven! there is now hope that at last these inhuman horrors are about to be closed. We are rejoiced that Mr. Ould took the initial step, and we trust our authorities will see to the speedy consummation of the beneficent measure.

Mayor Gunther in England.—Mr. Mayor Gunther has achieved the distinction of a favorable notice from the British journals peculiarly and malignantly Anti-American in their sympathy. His letter discouraging emigration is highly spoken of in such circles as are most closely allied in interest and feeling with the rebels. In reproducing it in England, the rebel organs are careful to point out, on Gunther's authority, that the British workman who comes here, instead of earning five shillings for his day's labor, really earns but two shillings. It is considered highly gratifying, moreover, that the Chief Magistrate of the first city of the American Union should have vouchsafed his testimony in so open and explicit a manner. In short, Gunther has done what he hoped to do; he has lent a hand to the foreign foes of our country, and they acknowledge it gratefully.

Pendleton.

We have heard, on very good authority, that a select meeting of Democratic politicians was held, a few evenings ago, in this city, at the house of a prominent Copperhead, to consider the propriety of requiring Mr. Pendleton either to write a good rampant war letter, expressing his "views," or to withdraw from the canvass. Since this gentleman's selection for the Vice-Presidency, he has proved nearly as great a nuisance to the Democratic party as the bull in the china shop to the proprietor of that establishment. They have so far failed in getting him to write a letter with any meaning to it, or which gives the public any clearer idea of his opinions about the war, than it had already. The recent epistle, in which he avowed his attachment to the Constitution, throws about as much light on his political position, as an expression of admiration for the planet Mars. A man may adore the Union, as everybody knows, and yet refuse to fire a shot or spend a cent to save it. It is now generally admitted that his speech the other night, at the New-York Hotel, was not a success. His sole reply to the charges made against him of hostility to the war, hostility to the army, and sympathy with the rebellion is, that the printer made the mistake of substituting "June" for "Jan." or "January." This is fearfully "smart," but smartness is hardly the quality most needed in a Vice-President of the United States.

We are firmly of opinion, however, that there is no use in holding meetings about him. He is a hopeless case. He will not write a letter of acceptance, and he will not withdraw. We presume he has nothing to say about himself which the public does not already know; and there is really no good reason for his withdrawing, which did not exist before he was nominated. He has not deceived anybody about his opinions. The convention knew what they were in September, as well as they know now. He is a peace man, opposed to the war, and denier of the right of coercion; or in other words, affirms the right of each State to leave the Union when it pleases; precisely the same doctrine which was and is held by Breckinridge, recently the incumbent of the office for which Mr. Pendleton is a candidate, and now a general in the rebel army. The rebellion found Breckinridge Vice-President, and like Mr. Pendleton he thought, we believe, the revolted States acted unwisely in seceding, but like Mr. Pendleton, he thought the attempt to bring them back by force was outrageous and unjustifiable, and it was for this reason he joined the insurrection and entered the rebel army. Mr. Pendleton has not followed the same course, simply, we presume, because he is less ardent and bellicose; but he has served the same cause in Congress full as effectually, and with considerably less risk to himself, than Breckinridge in the field. To be sure, neither of them has done the Government much damage, but this was not for want of will. It will certainly be a great triumph for the South if they can see two of their warm partisans twice during the struggle presiding over the Senate.

Sanders and the Bank Robbers.—Among the reports of the St. Alban's outrage will be found an intercepted telegram directed to George N. Sanders, in which one of the robbers practically admits that Sanders had been forewarned of the burglaries. A sort of partnership, in fact, is set up between the thieves and the Niagara peace negotiator. This accounts for the statement made in a previous report, that Sanders had gone to Lower Canada, and was at St. John, along with the captured gang, "managing their cause."

The Colonial Confederation.—There is probably little ground for the report of the conference proceedings in Quebec, which announce the selection of Ottawa as the seat of Government for the new Union. Such reports are frequently inspired by interested persons. The Queen, six years ago, selected Ottawa as the capital for Canada. But it is a most unlikely place to be chosen as the capital for the whole of British America.

AMUSEMENTS.

Italian Opera.—Donizetti's "Il Poliuto," the greatest success of the season, will be produced for the last time, with Carozzi, Zucchi, Massimiliani, Bellini and others, in the cast. We refer our readers to the advertisement in another column.

To-morrow, Saturday, a matinée will be given, when the ever attractive opera "Faust" will be performed.

The Verment Raid.

Montreal, Thursday, Oct. 27.

Eight depositions were taken at St. John yesterday. The option of transferring the prisoners to Montreal, was left to Hon. Ira Edwards, who acts for the United States.

The St. Alban's Outrage.

The Toronto, Canada, papers publish some additional items of news respecting the progress of the trial of the border thieves at St. John. The Toronto Globe of Wednesday has the following dispatch:

"Two depositions were taken to-day—slow work. Messrs. Abbott and Kerr appear for the prisoners. All of them were identified, although others were mixed with the prisoners at the time. One witness made the mistake of identifying a Montreal policeman as a raider. The depositions will occupy to-morrow, and perhaps Friday. If committed, efforts will be made to have a public trial here. The charges are murder, robbery, attempted arson, &c. The prisoners are in good spirits, and are well treated. I heard them singing. There is no danger of their escaping the military guard and police at St. John. Quite few strangers but those engaged in the case. The Confederate Sanders, and Mr. Day of the London Herald, were present.

A man with $10,000 was arrested in Montreal last night. The money he got from raiders in St. Alban's. He will be sent out to St. John to-morrow.

Col. Ermatinger has command of the Government police along the stations to look after crimps.

Reception of the Fifty-second Regiment.—Yesterday afternoon the Fifty-second Regiment, N. Y. S. V., distinguished for the last three years as one of the best disciplined, hard-fighting and enduring organizations in the army, arrived in this city from Washington. Although it was the general desire of the veterans to avoid a public display, still the Fifth Regiment, N. Y. N. G., were out in full force, under command of Col. Burger, to receive them. The complete ranks of the Fifth Regiment presented a striking contrast to those of the Fifty-second, of which but thirty-five of the original thousand strong remained. Early in the afternoon these heroes of many battles were drawn up in line in front of the City Hall, and were formally received by their military escort. Judge Daley delivered the speech of welcome. He spoke in eloquent terms of the honorable record of the regiment; the faithfulness with which they had served the republic, and tendered them the thanks of their fellow-citizens. In conclusion he presented a beautiful wreath, bearing the inscription "Welcome Home Fifty-second Regiment." The officer commanding responded, saying that his command had always endeavored to do their duty in whatever position they were placed. He referred to the battles in which the regiment had been engaged, and trusted that its record was a sufficient guarantee of its patriotism and the services it had rendered the country. At the conclusion of his remarks the volunteers gave three cheers for the city, when the ceremonies ended.

FROM HAVANA.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

Havana, Saturday, Oct. 22, 1864.

We have no news from Mexico since my last per Columbia, and from Santo Domingo we have only had the Spanish steamer Mulatico, which arrived on the 18th, four days from Monte Christi. The Havana papers have given no news in reference to her, and we are all much surprised; and it seems significant that—by the several steamers which have arrived since we were told that the Commissioners of Salcedo, President of San Domingo, had arrived at Monte Christi on the 1st instant—We have received no news of their conferences, &c. Few believe in the existence of any such Commissioners, although their names, &c., were given, and which I transmitted to you some time since. Certainly, the situation of the Spaniards there is by no means a pleasant one. In Spain there is a great outcry against the whole affair, and the army finds still greater opposition in the weather, climate and topography of the country, and the number and persistency of the so-called "rebels."

The Spanish mail packet arrived last night, from Cadiz, bringing news from Madrid to the 28th ult. By her arrival Señor Lozano, who takes command of the naval forces in the waters of Santo Domingo. Also, Señor Grandallana, who relieves Señor Sibila, second in command of this station. The Ex-Queen Christina, so hated by the Spanish nation, arrived at Vitoria at 6½ P. M., on the 27th, en route for Madrid. It is reported that all was quiet, and that no demonstrations were made against her, but many fear that this is but the calm that precedes the storm, and that even her life may be attempted, as it was in 1854, on her arrival at Madrid.

There have been many changes in the Governments of the Provinces of Spain since the accession of the present Ministry, which is said to be in favor of the cordial coöperation with France, against which the Progresistas, or Liberal party, are bitterly opposed, and it is said they are forming a resolution, aided by England, to overthrow Navaez.]

The Captains of H. C. M. men-of-war Hernan Cortes, Masanedo, Borja and Juan del Austria have, in the name of the officers of the naval division of Santa Domingo, presented Señor Sivila, their late chief, an ebony box with ornaments of gold and precious stones, and which contains the belt of a Commander of a fleet, or badge of office, adorned with anchors, &c., of massive gold.

The steamer Zephyr, alias France, from Galveston, brought 1,080 bales of cotton, and did not see a single United States vessel during the trip. I am told the engineer has been dismissed for having purposely disarranged the machinery, as she did not at any time make more than eight knots during the passage.

The Corsica also sails to-day, and many believing the Roanoke to have been captured by piratical passengers, give her the preference over the Havana. The consignees of the Roanoke gave passages to 32 passengers. Only six passports were obtained at the United States Consulate.

OUR HAVANA CORRESPONDENCE.

The Roanoke's Disaster—Blockade-Runners at Nassau, &c.

Havana, Saturday, Oct. 24, 1864.

The fate of the Roanoke steamship is still unknown to us here, the only intelligence that we have on the subject is that derived from the steamship Corsica, which, on arriving at Nassau, found there a steamer, the Virginia, which had lately arrived from Bermuda, in which latter island the report was current that the Roanoke had been captured and the passengers had been landed by means of boats on the above-named island.

With regard to the steamship Virginia here mentioned, in the Nassau Guardian, of the 12th, is the following paragraph:

"Amongst other steamers which have arrived, we must mention the propeller Virginia, Capt. Moore. It left London on the 11th of last month, stopping at Terceira and Bermuda. It entered at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning, having made the voyage from the last-named port in 72 hours."

Some hesitation is still entertained as to the report from Bermuda, inasmuch as the United States Consul there, in letter after mentioning the rumor, expressed doubt as to its correctness. One thing, however, is considered beyond all doubt, and that is, that it has been captured by Confederates disguised as passengers. It appears that a design has been entertained for some time to seize one of the New-York steamships, but various impediments had occurred in the meantime. I have been assured that the Confederate agent here was consulted, and he decidedly disapproved of such doings. As Pierre Soule was then here en route for Vera Cruz, his opinion was asked, and he also reprobated the scheme, but was inclined to think it allowable by the laws of naval warfare.

As for the reception of such objectionable passengers, the Acting Consul is entirely free from the least shade of reproach, for, as always, he exercised great vigilance and care in countersigning the passports, there were but few passengers as is usual at this season, and one individual giving rise to suspicion, he was at once tendered the oath of allegiance. But at the last hour over thirty persons presented themselves to purchase passage tickets, and in the flurry of business the agents for the Roanoke overlooked the fact that their passports were not countersigned. Several of the merchants here had freight on board; one house having three hundred boxes of sugar, and another about $30,000 in greenbacks. Of course a great deal of the property belonged to Spanish subjects and could not, under any code, be liable to seizure.

The Nassau papers give us a list of the blockade runners which, on the 10th inst., arrived there from Wilmington. They were the steamers Floria, Falcon, Helen and Elya, and also the Fox, from Charleston. The Falcon is a propeller, with three chimneys. Amongst the passengers was the Confederate Commodore, Pegram. Another steamer, the Syren, had arrived from Charleston at the beginning of the month, as had also the Hope, which is a fine vessel, 300 feet long, and measures 900 tons. After leaving port she was chased by a Federal cruiser, which fired balls and shell, one of the latter penetrated into the steerage, and was found buried in a bale of cotton, but did not explode.

By the Hope we learn that the steamers Ella and Wando of Nassau had arrived at Wilmington: also, that the Lynx, with 650 bales of cotton, was fired at and sunk, the crew escaping with $5,000 in specie. The steamer Night Hawk was captured, burnt and abandoned, the Captain and part of the crew being made prisoners. The Lady Sterling was captured near Wilmington. She sailed from Halifax with a cargo of lard.

The famous little steamer, Will-o'the-Wisp, had arrived at Nassau in a very damaged state. She left that port for Wilmington, was delayed by bad weather, and then discovered by a cruiser. In escaping one of her wheels broke, and, at the same time, another cruiser loomed in the distance, which soon proved that its guns were well served. To complete her mishaps, a heavy sea struck her, leaving two feet of water on the deck. A way was opened for the water, and the pursuers distanced, although her harbor of refuge was not reached before the bursting of a flue rendered one boiler useless.

Union Mass Meeting at Bloomfield.—Major James Haggerty will speak at the Wigwam in Bloomfield, N. J., this evening. Courtland Parker, Esq., of Newark, has been invited to be present, and will doubtless speak.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.

Hon. R. E. Fenton on Municipal Reform, &c.

The following correspondence explains itself:

New-York, Sept. 30, 1864.

Hon. Reuben E. Fenton:

Sir: As a public man, observant of the interests which pervade all sections of our State, you have doubtless become aware of a strongly-developed sentiment in this city in favor of municipal reform, although a conviction of the absolute necessity for such reform may not have been forced upon your attention.

On the approach of an important election, in which your name is mentioned for the office of Chief Executive of the State, it is important to the welfare of our citizens, and of especial interest to that portion of them actively engaged in urging the work of radical reform in our Municipal Government, that your views in relation to these matters should be made known to the community. For the attainment of this object, we would respectfully solicit your views upon the following questions:

1. Either through mismanagement or from a defect in the organization of our City Government, our taxes have reached the alarming amount of $15,000,000 for the present year, for which extraordinary outlay the community receives a return utterly disproportioned to the burdens unnecessarily imposed. It is believed that with much less than the amount of the present tax the affairs of the City can be administered satisfactorily to the public, and with a promptness and efficiency at present almost unknown. It is also believed that with the coöperation of the Executive and Legislative branches of our State Government, such changes can be made in our organic law as will prevent a recurrence of these abuses. We respectfully ask of you, whether in the event of your election we may rely upon your coöperation in aiding to effect these changes, and in the removal without unnecessary delay of official delinquents upon the presentation of full proofs of their delinquency?

2. For years past the interest of the city, and, in many instances, the convenience of the community, have been made to suffer by legislative grants of railroads to private individuals; and to such an extent have these special grants been bestowed that our public streets have become more the property of private companies and speculators than of the people themselves, and as we are again threatened by this same class of men with renewed applications for further grants of a like nature to the next Legislature, which, if successful, will result in additional loss to the city and inconvenience to our people, it is all important to us that your views should be known upon the subject, and that whether, in the event of your election you will unite with the people in their effort to put a stop to the further increase of an evil that has already spread its injurious effects over the city without compensatory benefits to the community?

We shall be pleased by an early and full reply to the above, and remain your obedient servants,

MR. FENTON'S REPLY.

Jamestown, Oct. 24, 1864.

Gentlemen: Your letter of the 30th ult., inclosed by R. B. Roosevelt, Esq., under date of the 11th inst., came duly to hand.

I have from time to time noticed the fact that the expenditures of the City of New-York were rapidly increased, and that complaints were made of an unnecessary amount of taxation. My position and pursuits, however, have not been such as to lead me to a careful examination touching the abuses of such increase of expenditures, or the reasonableness of the complaints.

I hold it to be the duty of the legislative and executive departments of the Government to exercise a watchful care over the interests of the people, and to protect them from unnecessary burdens.

It will certainly give me pleasure in the event to which you refer to coöperate with the legislature in all reforms tending to the diminution of the public burdens, and a more strict accountability of all public officers.

Any public officer who is unfaithful to the trust reposed in him should be held strictly responsible, and the power of removal whether it rests with the people, the Legislature, or the Executive, like any other duty, should be fearlessly discharged.

I have not had occasion to examine with any degree of care the questions relative to railways in the streets of your city. I am, however, prepared to say, that no rights of the municipality of the City of New-York, or any other city, to franchises or other property, should ever be taken from them without full conviction that the paramount interests of the public demand it. In short, in my opinion it is the duty of those representing the people to guard and protect all their interests from invasion.

Very respectfully,
R. E. FENTON.

Messrs. Robt. B. Roosevelt, Wm. E. Dodge and others, City of New-York.

The Battle of Cedar Creek—Fair Play.

New-York, Thursday, Oct. 27, 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The letter of Mr. E. A. Paul, published this morning, does great injustice to Brig.-Gen. Thomas Devin, and demands a correction.

Gen. Custer was not present in the charge referred to, in which the large captures of guns and other material were made. That charge was made by Gen. Devin with his own brigade and a part of the First Vermont and Fifth New-York Cavalry of Gen. Custer's division. As commanding officer of the forces engaged, Gen. Devin might have claimed to turn in all the property captured by the troops under him as made by his command. But with characteristic generosity he allows the guns and other property seized by the First Vermont and Fifth New-York to be retained by them and turned in to the credit of their division and its Commander.

Gen. Devin crossed the creek by the bridge in the face of a murderous fire. Gen. Custer crossed to the right of the bridge, and after taking one gun that had been very troublesome to Gen. Devin's column, returned to camp, while the further pursuit (for three hours, until 11 P. M.) and important captures were conducted by Gen. Devin.

It is painful at the moment when for the first time our splendid cavalry are enjoying due public appreciation, to be compelled by an explanation like the above to rebuke the assumption by one officer (and for him by your correspondent) of praise that both know to be justly due to another. Very respectfully,

R. S. H.

The City Railroads and their Fares.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

This morning, myself, wife and sister, took the Seventh-avenue cars, below Twenty-third-street, for a ride down town. The conductor demanded, and took of me eighteen cents fare for the three. I paid for all. I contend that all he could legally take is fifteen cents, and three-eighths of one cent for fare for three persons; but conceding that the exact change cannot be made, the railroad companies cannot legally take over sixteen cents fare for three persons; or two persons, eleven cents instead of twelve; or for four persons, twenty one cents instead of twenty-four, and so on. Probably the best way for the City Railroads would be to direct their conductors to take fares in that way, when two or more persons pay together; otherwise, persons may bring the test into the courts with disastrous consequences to the companies.

There is a principle involved in these over charges, by our City Railroad Companies, which the people in this city ought not to overlook.

The following will show my plan:

2 persons to pay 11 cents, instead of 12 cents, as now.
3 persons to pay 16 cents, instead of 18 cents, as now.
4 persons to pay 21 cents, instead of 24 cents, as now.
5 persons to pay 26 cents, instead of 30 cents, as now.
6 persons to pay 31 cents, instead of 36 cents, as now.

Oct, 26, 1864.

JUSTICE.

French Opinion on the War Now.

From the Paris Débats, Oct. 12.

The Government of the Confederate States has just called under arms all able-bodied citizens from the age of 16 years to 50. It is difficult to decide what such a step most proves—the heroism of the South or its exhaustion. It must conquer or die. That is the extremity to which it is now literally reduced; or, rather, if it is thought that no success up to the present time has saved it, the situation of the Confederate States will be more correctly defined by saying that they must perish, even after a victory!

How the New-York Regiments are Voting.—The following are some of the results of recent voting in New-York regiments in the Army of the Potomac:

	Lincoln.	McClellan.
50th New-York Engineers, Co. G	81	3
50th New-York Engineers, Co. E	83	4
50th New-York Engineers, Co. officers	41	13
188th New-York	508	37
11th Battery	93	11
112th New-York	285	9
189th New-York	481	77
Total	1,572	154

In the One Hundred and Twelfth mentioned above, 248 votes were given to Mr. Fenton, for Governor, and none to Seymour.

IMPORTANT FROM THE SOUTH.

A Convention of Governors—More Resolutions—Sheridan's Victory.

A CONVENTION OF GOVERNORS.

From the Richmond Examiner, Oct. 24.

At a meeting of the Governors of the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, held in Augusta, Ga., on Monday, the 17th inst., Gov. WILLIAM SMITH, presiding, after a full, free and harmonious consultation and interchange of council, the following, among other views, were expressed:

Resolved, That there is nothing in the present aspect of public affairs to cause any abatement of our zeal in the prosecution of the war to the accomplishment of a peace, based on the independence of the Confederate States. And to give encouragement to our brave soldiers in the field and to strengthen the Confederate authorities in the pursuit of this desirable end, we will use our best exertions to increase the effective force of our armies.

Resolved, That the interests of each of our States are identical in the present struggle for self-government, and wisdom and true patriotism dictate that the military forces of each should aid the others against invasion and subjugation, and for this purpose we will recommend to our several Legislatures to repeal all such laws as prohibit the Executives from sending their forces beyond their respective limits, in order that they may render temporary service wherever most urgently required.

Resolved, That whilst it is our purpose to use every exertion to increase the strength and efficiency of our State and Confederate forces, we respectfully and earnestly request that the Confederate authorities will send to the field every able-bodied man, without exception, in any of its various departments, whose place can be filled by either disabled officers and soldiers, senior reserves or negroes, and dispense with the use of all provost and post guard, except in important cities, or localities where the presence of large bodies of troops make them necessary, and with all passport agents upon railroads not in the immediate vicinity of the armies, as we consider these agents an unnecessary annoyance to good citizens and of no possible benefit to the country.

Resolved, That we recommend our respective Legislatures to pass stringent laws for the arrest and return to their commands of all deserters and stragglers from the Confederate armies or State troops; and that it be made the special duty, under appropriate penalties, of all civil and military officers to arrest and deliver to the proper authorities all such delinquents.

And Whereas, The public enemy having proclaimed the freedom of our slaves, are forcing into their armies the able-bodied portion thereof, the more effectually to wage their cruel and bloody war against us; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the true policy and obvious duty of all slave-owners timely to remove their slaves from the line of the enemy's approach, and especially those able to bear arms; and when they should fail to do so that it should be made the duty of the proper authorities to enforce the performance of this duty, and to give to such owners all necessary assistance as far as practicable.

Resolved, That the course of the enemy in appropriating our slaves who may happen to fall into their hands to purposes of war, seems to justify a change of policy on our part, and whilst owners of slaves under the circumstances should freely yield them to their country, we recommend to our authorities, under proper regulations, to appropriate such part of them to the public service as may be required.

Resolved, That the States have the right to export such productions and to import such supplies as may be necessary for State use, or for the comfort or support of their troops in service, upon any vessel or vessels owned or chartered by them; and that we request Congress at its next session to pass laws removing all restrictions which have been imposed by Confederate authority upon such exports or imports by the States.

And lastly, we deem it not inappropriate to declare our firm and unalterable purpose, as we believe it to be that of our fellow-citizens, to maintain our right of self-government, to establish our independence, and to uphold the rights and sovereignty of the States, or to perish in the attempt.

Resolved, That the Chairman be requested to send a copy of these resolutions to His Excellency President DAVIS, and also one each to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Governors of the several States of the Confederacy, to be laid before the respective bodies.

The Richmond Whig, commenting upon this action, says:

"The Governors of several of our States have been in consultation in Georgia, and have agreed in making a number of recommendations to Congress, the Confederate Executive, and the Legislatures of the several States, the adoption of which, it is thought, will promote the cause in which each of the States has so vital an interest. There does not appear to have been any discord or diversity of opinion in this conference; and, indeed, it may be said there is no difference among our people, except in some matters, as to the wisdom with which the means placed at the disposal of the authorities are employed. The paramount question with all—the one question—is, how can the power of the Confederacy be most efficiently and successfully employed for the defence and deliverance of the Confederacy? All agree that its entire military resources, to the last man and the last dollar, if needed, must be thrown into the struggle. No one thinks of turning back, or so much as looking back, till the work is finished. No one dreams of any adjustment that would compromise our independence. Liberty or death is the language and the purpose of all. With such a resolve animating the whole body of our people, armies, authorities and citizens, subjugation is impossible."

The Sentinel says:

"In another column we publish the resolutions adopted at a conference of the Governors of a number of the Confederate States. The united resolve of the Governors to use every effort to increase the effective force of the army; to strengthen the Confederate authorities in the discharge of their duties; to consider the interests of all the States as identical, and to favor the sending of State troops beyond the State limits when their services are needed; to favor stringent laws for the arrest by the State authorities of stragglers and deserters, will be greeted with popular acclamation.

The determined resolve which they declare for themselves and their constituencies "to maintain our right of self-government, to establish our independence, and to uphold the rights and sovereignty of the States or to perish in the attempt," is an exhibition of the spirit proper to their high positions, and shared by our people throughout the country. The Governors also recommend to the Confederate Government to send all able-bodied civil employes into the field, and to dispense in a great measure with provost and post-guards. They further propose a course of action in reference to slaves near the enemy's lines, and the employment of slaves in the Confederate service, which is eminently proper, and in accordance with a growing sentiment among the people.

On the whole, we trust, this conference of the Governors will be productive of much good.

SHERIDAN'S VICTORY.

EARLY'S DEFEAT OCCASIONED BY THE DESIRE OF HIS MEN TO PLUNDER THE CAPTURED CAMPS.

From the Richmond Examiner, Oct. 24.

From officers of Gen. EARLY'S army who came down with the Yankee prisoners captured at Cedar Creek we gather some particulars of the late fight in the Valley. On Tuesday, the 18th, EARLY lay at Fisher's Hill, with two corps of SHERIDAN'S army in his front, on the north side of Cedar Creek. Another corps, the Sixth (WRIGHT'S old corps,) was between Middletown and Newtown. SHERIDAN himself was at Winchester, and his cavalry a little withdrawn from the front. The two corps on Cedar Creek were heavily fortified on the left (looking toward Middletown) of the turnpike, but their works on the right of the road were incomplete.

This being the situation, EARLY determined to attack, and, if possible, to surprise the force on Cedar Creek. Accordingly on Tuesday, at nightfall, he marched out of his works at Fisher's Hill to the stone bridge which crosses the little stream at the foot of the hill. Here his army was divided, the larger column moving to the right of the turnpike, the lesser to the left, the object being a simultaneous attack on both flanks of the enemy. In order to flank the enemy's works on the right (their left) of the road, it was necessary to march the larger column through a narrow pass in the mountains, where two men could not walk abreast. Thus, marching in single file, the whole night was consumed before the large column found itself in proper position to make the attack. Meantime the column which had moved to the left, having a good road to march on, arrived at its destination much sooner than that on the right, and the commander, impatient of delay, ordered the assault some ten or twenty minutes before the other wing of our army was ready to coöperate. But for this the capture of prisoners would have been very much larger. As it was, the enemy were taken completely by surprise; two divisions stampeded without firing a gun, and not one of the eighteen captured cannon was discharged. The whole camp, exceedingly rich with spoil, was captured, and this abundant booty seems to have had much the same effect on EARLY'S men that the fat camp of Shiloh had on BEAUREGARD'S. Many of them lagged behind in order to plunder, and those who pressed forward at EARLY'S order cast many a lingering look behind.

The enemy attempted once or twice to make a stand, but were driven in utter rout to Middletown, leaving the ground strewn with their dead and dying, with countless guns, knapsacks, blankets, &c. SHERIDAN, returning in hot haste from Winchester, threw forward the Sixth corps to the relief of the shattered Eighth and Nineteenth, just as EARLY was in the act of withdrawing his exhausted men from Middletown. At the same moment he hurled his cavalry upon both our flanks. Our line gave way, and the turnpike being crowded with cannon, they were abandoned. The retreat continued rapidly to Cedar Creek, two miles from Middletown, and there ended, the enemy being too much worsted to make a vigorous pursuit.

Our principal loss was in cannon. We lost a number of prisoners, but they consisted almost without an exception, of wounded men and a few teamsters and cannon drivers. The enemy were roundly thrashed, and they know it. The sudden reverse in our fortunes is attributable to the over-eagerness of pursuit, the exhausted condition of our men, the want of discipline in a portion of our cavalry, and last, but not least, the allurements of the enemy's rich camp. We attempted to do too much, that is all. If we had withdrawn at 2 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock, the victory would have proved one of the most brilliant that has ever been achieved in the Valley. EARLY'S men by no means feel defeated, as SHERIDAN may discover before very many days. Gen. RAMSEUR was mortally wounded, and has since died in the enemy's hands. The gallant Gen. BATTLE, of Alabama, was wounded in the leg, and is now in Richmond. Fifteen hundred prisoners, taken in this battle reached the city yesterday morning, and four hundred more are said to be on their way.

EARLY RAPIDLY RECOVERING FROM HIS DISASTER.

From the Richmond Examiner Oct. 24.

In the condition of news, we are compelled to give a place in these columns to the election bulletins of Secretary STANTON and his model General, SHERIDAN. But there is enough intelligence among our readers to distinguish the outlines of truth through all their glaring colors. Nobody in fact does—because nobody need—feel discouraged in the least by the news of another SHERIDAN victory in the Valley. We have become accustomed to the chances of war, and especially when they appear in the form of reverses in the Valley. JACKSON endured many, EARLY endures more. But neither sustained any decisive defeat. The present, it is true, forms one of a rather long series. But it is not half so bad as Winchester. Then STANTON and SHERIDAN told the world that EARLY'S army was destroyed, and that he would pursue the scattered fugitives to Lynchburgh or Richmond. Yet EARLY gave him battle in a few days. After each of the successive fights the same story was repeated; always EARLY has lost his last cannon—yet he has fifty pieces more to lose. In the meantime no solid result is obtained. SHERIDAN never gets as far up the Valley as HUNTER—indeed his tether is no longer than MILROY'S. He has forty thousand men; he has ten thousand picked cavalry—this is the official admission. Yet that great army has been held through the campaign, in two counties of Virginia. Here, in this month of October, the whole plan of his operations has to be changed. He has been compelled to abandon the road to Lynchburgh, which runs up the valley; he must come over to the plains of Piedmont, form a new base, and advance on Gordonsville. To accomplish this purpose, he fortifies a position near Winchester, so that a fragment of his army may hold EARLY in check and keep him out of another invasion, while his main body crosses the mountain. But before he is ready, that beaten EARLY, that dispersed army, whose sole remaining cannon was last seen "flying over Rude's Hill, twenty-six miles off, on a keen run;" those troops which had ceased to exist, except in the shape of deserters and fugitives in the mountains, that army suddenly attacks him, SHERIDAN and his forty thousand, captures the entire artillery and camp of two corps, routs those two corps, seizes and sends to Richmond fifteen hundred and sixteen prisoners; while four hundred more are on the way. Now, may it not be doubted whether SHERIDAN is, indeed, "Master of the Valley," when "no army at all" can do that to him in the midst of his fortifications?

It is true that a very complete victory was lost in he pursuit of too much. The Confederate force attacking was but 10,000. The infantry it attacked numbered 30,000, with 11,000 excellent cavalry on their flanks. We lost most of our captured cannon in a defile, and 23 pieces of our own. But we lost few or no unwounded prisoners, except the teamsters and cannon drivers, while we have and hold 1,900 unwounded prisoners taken from the enemy. We have and we hold them. Our retreating troops left miles of dead and wounded Yankees behind them, and the enemy, who brags of the "most splendid" victory, did not pursue.

Clearly the victory is not so entirely conclusive as the Yankee readers of SHERIDAN and STANTON suppose, or is the campaign in the valley a finished thing. Either EARLY and his army can support a superhuman amount of beating and cannon taking, or SHERIDAN is a liar. His master at Washington has some perception of logic and the cohesion of words—he feels the necessity of accounting with the public for the discrepancy of his bulletins, and of showing how an army that has been so often cut to pieces could come together again; how a General who has so often lost all his cannon could still have fifty pieces more to lose. His key to the riddle is the supposed arrival of LONGSTREET in the valley—LONGSTREET and his whole corps, artillery included—that was the party who broke loose at Cedar Creek. But it is a public fact that LONGSTREET commands his corps on the lines of Richmond. EARLY fought the battle; fought it without reinforcements—fought with the same army and the same cannon which have held SHERIDAN and forty thousand veteran troops in constant business for half a year. Perhaps he may give more business yet to do—perhaps he may fight him many times again. Apple brandy is a deeper drink than "sherris-sack," after all. He has not been a lucky General, but his defeats in the latter half of the campaign are more easily forgiven than the glorious opportunities lost in its beginning, for he has one quality of a commander, that he recovers from a disaster with amazing rapidity.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Thursday, Oct. 27, 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

SIR: You are aware that I am one of those supporters of the Government who were opposed to the nomination of Mr. LINCOLN for reëlection, and sustained the nomination of Gen. FREMONT. Gen. FREMONT having withdrawn, there are now only two candidates in the field, and we are forced to choose between the candidates of Baltimore and those of Chicago. As the choice between these is virtually a choice between Union and Disunion, and as I am a Union man, and opposed to any compromise or armistice with rebels, I wish to say through your columns, to such friends as I may still have, that if I am able to leave my sick room, and attend the polls, I shall cast my vote for the Baltimore Convention. I cannot vote for a peace ticket, for this war has cost me too much for me to be willing it should end till the rebellion is put down and the authority and majesty of the Government vindicated. Whatever may be my opinion of Mr. LINCOLN, I shall in the only alternative left me, vote for his reëlection, for he is pledged to continue the war till the Union is restored, and I know where to find him.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant
O. A. BROWNSON.

FOR THE
EYE, EAR, CATARRH, AND THROAT DISEASES,
NO. 129 TREMONT, CORNER OF WINTER-ST., BOSTON,
AND
NO. 793 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, OPPOSITE GRACE CHURCH.
Under the Professional Charge of
DR. S. CLESSON PRATT,
Physician to Tremont Eye and Ear Institute, Boston; Lecturer on Diseases of the Organs of Special Sense; Author of the Medical Specialist. Medical Hydrokonia for Catarrh, &c., &c.

NASAL CATARRH,

differs from a cold, by the following symptoms, viz.: It consists of inflammation, beginning behind and a little above the veil of the palate, and extending upward into the nose and air cavities of the face. It creates a perpetual desire to swallow, and causes a feeling as if something were sticking in the upper and back part of the throat. As the disease becomes chronic, the matter secreted becomes puriform and the breath is rendered offensive, and the voice assumes a nasal twang, while on rising in the morning great effort is required to clear the head and throat. There is often a feeling of pressure across the upper part of the nose and the base of the brain, causing headache, dizziness, and confusion of thought and memory. The sense of smell becomes impaired; the eyes are weak, and as the inflammation extends up the eustachian tubes into the middle ear, there is a partial deafness, or ringing noise in the ears. In sleep, this puriform matter is swallowed, which deranges the stomach and impairs digestion, causing Dyspepsia and a multiplicity of discordant symptoms, which are often mistaken for other diseases. Then let it be remembered that every breath of air drawn into the lungs is drawn over this diseased surface, and who can deny the assertion that to neglect Catarrh is to invite Consumption.

LUNG DISEASE.

Who among the living does not know this to be the one prevailing disease in this climate with which the youth and middle-aged die? The weekly lists of mortality from this terrible disorder are sufficiently appalling to startle the strongest heart, and bring tears of sorrow and sympathy to many a lone one whose heart is filled with sweet, sad memories for the loved and early lost. And yet, in eight cases out of ten, Lung Disease is but the sequence of Nasal Catarrh. With every incentive to enjoyment and usefulness, there are hundreds all around us dying in the morning of life in Consumption, who can look back six months, a year, or longer, to a time when it was "nothing but Catarrh." Neglected when a cure was possible, it has steadily transformed the bright, ruddy features of youth into the dull, wan, listlessness of premature age, as it has drunk up the vitality from the blood and fluids of the wasting frame. And now, when hope is vain, and pretence is a mockery, comes the stereotyped and hackneyed advice of "a visit to the country," "a change of climate," "a sea voyage," "a return of health in the Spring," etc. But alas, the country referred to is that which lies beyond the confines of the festering grave, and the Spring is the season that blooms eternal when life's fitful fever is over.

THE SEQUENCE OF NEGLECT.

Whilst the disease in question consists of inflammation of the membrane lining the throat, nostrils and air cavities about the upper part of the face and the base of the skull, it admits of direct examination and application of such local means, coupled with appropriate general treatment, as to insure its immediate relief and ultimate cure, but neglected until the lungs are attacked and then medical skill and the hope and prayers of love and friendship are alike unavailing. Do you believe the stupid assumption that the disease will get well of itself, or is curable by "snuffing," or "inhaling," the impotent nostrums of some medical mountebank? Remember that the catarrhal secretion depends upon a poison and humoral condition of the general system, which requires the most careful and judicious treatment at the hands of the experienced physician. Do you doubt this portrayal of the nature and tendency of the disease in question? Ask the poor Consumptive, whose sun of life is going down at noon. Read its signs in the faces of those you meet in the walks of daily life.

A little while, and we miss their coming; health and youth have faded from lips and cheek; the light from the dark eye has gone out; the hands are folded peacefully over the still heart; they are gone!

MEDICAL HYDROKONIA.

This term signifies a combination of specific remedies adapted to the local and constitutional treatment of Nasal Catarrh, and differing both in use and effect from all other modes and practices for this alarmingly prevalent and dangerous disease.

It has been thoroughly tested in many hundreds of cases, and, when persistently used, always with the same infallible results, viz., to heal the local disease while it changes the diathesis or constitutional tendency upon which the catarrhal secretion depends; for it should be remembered that nasal catarrh is as really a consumption of the blood and fluids of the body (only in a less degree) as, when neglected, it has reached the lungs.

As the author of this system of special practice, we respectfully invite the attention of physicians and others interested to the means and facilities at our command—not that we claim superior knowledge in the selection of remedies, but rather in the mode of application—not by "snuffing," "injecting," or "inhaling," but by a method at once original, safe and simple, and which commends itself alike to the confidence of practitioner and patient.

With a surplus on hand of $294,000 on the 1st of January, with earnings since that show an increase fully justifying a dividend upon the common stock—with the market price of all classes of its bonds far below those of other roads whose earnings are less than those of this road—with agents who so represent every accident upon the road as to depreciate the value of our stock, let us who are its owners, take some united action upon the subject.

If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhoea or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks; permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 61 Franklin-st. Call, send, or write.

CAUTION.—CHLORODYNE—IN CHANCERY.—It was clearly proved before Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood, by affidavits from eminent hospital physicians in London, that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, Jan. 12, 1864. The public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, which is affirmed by medical testimonials to be the most efficacious medicine ever discovered for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spasms, Rheumatism, &c. No home should be without it. J. T. DAVENPORT, No. 33 Great Russell-st., London, sole manufacturer. Observe particularly, none genuine without the words "Dr. J. COBBETT can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on private diseases at his conveniently-arranged suite of offices, No. 20 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place. ACADEMY OF MUSIC—ITALIAN OPERA.

TO-NIGHT.

Director.................MAX MARETZEK.

LAST NIGHT OF IL POLIUTO.

A CARD.—The Director takes this occasion to announce that next week will be the last of the Fall season of Opera, and inasmuch as the time named will be occupied by the production of Mozart's grandest work, DON GIOVANNI, in matchless style, and the debut of Mrs. JENNIE VAN ZANDT in RIGOLETTO, it will be impossible to give another representation, after that of this evening, of the POLIUTO.

Therefore no lover of the lyric drama should fail to improve the present opportunity for enjoying the admirable performance of CAROZZI-ZUCCHI in this opera—the equal of Grisi as a singer and of Ristori as an actress—and to hear the magnificent vocalization of MASSIMILIANI, who, according to all the leading critics, is incomparably the finest Polyutus ever heard here, not excepting such of his predecessors in the character as Brignoli, Musiani and Mazzoleni.

The Academy of Music will remain closed during election week, after which the regular winter season of Opera will be commenced. Among other novelties then to be offered is Donizetta's remarkable Opera, never yet produced in America, DON SEBASTIANO, which will be presented with a superb cast and brilliant mise en scene.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS are Sole Agents for the celebrated Alexandre Organs for the United States.

STEINWAY & SON

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

Jerome Hopkins, Charles Fradel, Max Maretzek, Carl Anschutz, John Zundle, Maurice Strakosch, Giovani Sconcia, and every good musician in the United States. GREAT BRITAIN.

A Spanish steamer, name unknown, from Antwerp, came to anchor off Shoreham, Sussex County, on the 11th of October, in charge of the officers of the United States frigate Niagara, which vessel had seized her on suspicion of having a cargo to run the blockade. The Niagara was in the company of the steamer at Shoreham.

The steamer Sacramento was also off New-Haven on the 12th inst., proceeding down the channel.

THE RUMOR ABOUT SEMMES.

The owner of the blockade-runner Laurel publishes a letter denying the statement that Captain SEMMES had sailed in his vessel, as stated, and ridiculing the idea that the little steamer Ranger, of less than one hundred tons, is to be manned and armed from the steamer Laurel, and converted into a rebel cruiser.

DEATH OF JULES GERARD.

It is reported from Africa that JULES GERARD, the explorer, was drowned while crossing a river.

THE GREAT PRIZE FIGHT.

JOE COBURN, accompanied by his friends, had personally demanded from the stakeholder the stakes for the intended fight, on the ground that he was at the place fixed for the fight while MACE failed to appear.

The stakeholder explained that COBURN could have no claim owing to the non-fulfilment of the conditions as to referee, and unless some mutual agreement could be come to the affair was a draw. COBURN expressed a wish to fight, but only in Ireland; or, failing that, in Canada.

MR. GLADSTONE ON AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

MR. GLADSTONE has been making additional speeches in Liverpool, Manchester, and other parts of Lancashire. He hints at prospective reform measures. He deplores the continuance of the American civil war, and expresses great sympathy for the American people. He felt, however, that they should be left to settle their own affairs, but confessed that he always had strong doubts of the practicability of reducing to subjection any large portion of a country that manifested a determination to separate.

THE FINANCIAL DISTURBANCE.

Financial affairs in England continued to be much disturbed, but the funds show an improvement and a better tone. The demand for discount was active, but the rate remains nominally nine per cent.

The additional suspensions include BROWN, BUCKLEY & Co., produce brokers in London, with liabilities amounting to £160,000.

H. LEDYARD, woolen warehouseman, London.

EDWARD COMBE, merchant, London.

N. H. WILLIAMS & Co., of Manchester, and others.

Another London corn merchant, Mr. A. DROSTER, has committed suicide in consequence of his embarrassments.

LATEST VIA LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday Evening, Oct. 15, 1864.

The steamship Persia reached Liverpool this afternoon. Her advices are generally regarded as less favorable for the North, and caused a decided improvement in the Confederate loan, which closed at 62 and 64.

THE CAPTURED SPANISH STEAMER RELEASED.

The Spanish steamer captured by the Niagara is believed to be the Cuceron, which left Antwerp on the 9th inst. for Cadiz. She was stopped on the 10th, off the Isle of Wight, by the steamers Niagara and Sacramento, who brought her up and anchored her off the coast until the night of the 12th inst., when the vessel was released, and proceeded to her destination, which is reported to be Matamoras.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Monster Mass Meeting at the Cooper Institute.

The Lincoln and Johnson Campaign Club bring out the People.

Speeches of Gov. Brough, of Ohio, Hon. Charles S. Spencer, and Others,

The Lincoln and Johnson Campaign Club held another immense mass meeting at the Cooper Institute last night, Hon. CHARLES S. SPENCER, President of the club, presiding. The audience crowded every available space in the building, and it is no exaggeration to say that thousands went away unable to get in. Many ladies and veteran soldiers were present. Mr. SPENCER called the meeting to order, and said:

The last convulsive struggle of the drowning man—the last desperate, reckless effort—the last unscrupulous villainy—the last card—and it has not won. The court-martial in session at Washington, under the presidency of Gen. DOUBLEDAY, suspends its trials of the Baltimore blockade-runners, transfers its sittings to Baltimore, and arraigns before it for prompt punishment fradulent forgers of dead soldiers' votes for MCCLELLAN, [hisses]—of votes for MCCLELLAN feloniously fabricated by the thousand, packed up in dry-goods boxes and directed to the cities of New York and Albany. [Cheers] The votes are seized, the criminals are in custody, [great cheering] the fraud is defeated. What an unparalelled infamy is this attempt to strike an assassin-traitor blow at the heart of our country in the hallowed and immortal names of those brave soldiers who have died in the arms of glory that the nation might live. [Applause.] The President then introduced the Glee Club, who sang several songs in their best manner. When the songs were ended Mr. SPENCER rose and said:

The month of October, in the year 1862, witnessed the signal defeat of the party of the Administration in the State of Ohio. Emboldened by this success the Grand Commander of the "Sons of Liberty," an organization of traitors who outraged Liberty by claiming her as their mother, became more violent in his treasonable denunciations of the Government and of the war, until the public safety imperiously demanded his arrest. He was arrested, tried, convicted, expatriated, sent among his friends beyond our lines, was kindly received by them, left from a Southern port, reached the Bermudas, then Halifax, then Windsor, opposite Detroit, in Canada West, where he immediately set up business as a first-class martyr. His confederates in Ohio, assembled in Convention, nominated him for Governor, and defiantly threatened to elect him and bring him into the State at the head of a hundred and fifty thousand armed men. Bad passions were inflamed; danger menaced the friends of the Union assembled in convention; they deliberated; they sought for the man for the crisis; they found him, an unambitious gentleman, long time in private life, of strong intellect, of unsullied virtue, of purest and most devoted patriotism, JOHN BROUGH. He breasted the storm, he canvassed the State, he won the fight. He received more than one hundred thousand majority. [Cheers.] He entitled himself to be called the great Vallandig—HAMMER. He has entered upon the duties of his office. He has discharged them well, and he came here to-night to speak to you fresh from the scene of a new triumph, which has aroused the efforts of the loyal men of his State at the late election—fresh from a beautiful view of the last sunset, of "Sunset Cox." Ladies and gentlemen of New-York, welcome the Executive of the elder sister State of the great West. I have the honor to introduce to you His Excellency JOHN BROUGH, Governor of Ohio.

GOV. BROUGH then stepped forward amid loud and long-continued applause and cheers lasting for several minutes.

SPEECH OF GOV. BROUGH.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: Having been greeted so cordially and so earnestly, I return you my most cordial thanks. I do not attribute it to any personal efforts or any services that I have rendered my country; on the contrary, I receive your greetings on behalf of the noble State that I have the honor to represent. [Applause.] I am one of her own sons, born upon her soil, and intend, God willing, to lay my bones there. [Applause.] I own she is worthy of your encomiums, and for her I return you my assurance of gratitude. I see that some of our brethren on the other side are claiming that we of the State of Ohio have given them a little victory, not quite so much of a majority as I had the honor of receiving a year ago. Well, my friends, it is not every one that has the honor of running against VALLANDIGHAM. [Laughter.] On Thursday last, we had returned, as one of my officers telegraphs me, fifty-five thousand votes cast by the soldiers of Ohio, and upon that figure the Union State Ticket had the very lean, miserable majority of forty-eight thousand [Applause.] So that, taking that vote and adding it to the home vote, we have a majority in the October elections of seventy-six thousand. [Cheers.] We are not proud of it, but would like to see you beat it in New-York. We intend to do better in November, and, if you intend to beat Ohio, then just mark your figure at one hundred thousand. Now I spoke that by mistake, for I am one of the humblest, if not the smallest of her citizens, [laughter,] and I consider that I have a right to represent her, having grown up with her growth and strength. But I came to speak upon more important matters. Having been addicted to public speaking for thirty-five years, I never felt more embarrassment than to-night. I can say that I am rude in speech, for we Western men have a way of taking matters in a direct form, and that style of expression may not be exactly suited to this audience; but, such as it is, I propose to address you, according to the best of my ability. (The speaker then said he might be lengthy; when he got to talking he forgot time; that he was like the man who went into the barn to thresh, and when asked why he did not go on faster, said he had not got the hang of the barn yet, but he (the speaker) thought he would soon get the hang of this barn, and guessed they would not talk about his threshing slowly. [Laughter.] There is, of course, but one topic which the American people are desirous of hearing discussed; there is but one great question before them at the present time, as indicated in this rebellion, and it is the question of all questions, the most important and most vital one that ever was brought before a people on the face of the earth; the most important one that has been addressed to us since the days of the revolution, for it is literally a question of life and death. You may strip the issue of all the various appliances that have been gathered about it, narrow it down to a single sentence, and it presents to-day the question of Union or disunion, the life or death of this Government. There is no other issue now; we are not called on to consider any other. We are approaching, as I hope and believe, the end of the rebellion inaugurated by traitors and ambitious demagogues, and thrust without cause or justification upon the people of this country for the destruction of the best Government in the world. The time for writing the history of this rebellion has not arrived, but by and by when that history is written you and your posterity will read upon its page this one great truth, that independent of all reasons assigned and all causes given by the rebels themselves, or those claimed by us, you will find that there lies beneath another and greater one, viz.: ambition for empire, and a disposition to change this Government into one more suited to the taste of those engaged in the work. The are attempting to destroy that great principle which has shown forth and illustrated our history for the last century, viz.: that the foundation of the Government is laid in the hearts of the people. We talk about slavery being an element or rather a cause of this rebellion, it is only an instrument. In one sense it may be said to have been an element; it has an education of its own, it has educated Southern men so that they are desirous of destroying every other form of Government except their chosen one. Slavery has been made an agent in the process of this rebellion; it was made an element to retain the political power of the country until the preparations were made to overturn the Government by force of arms. I do not purpose to enter upon a history of this rebellion, further than to illustrate this single point—the determination to destroy the Government. Therefore, we of the North are not really guilty of one drop of blood that has been shed. It was almost impossible, when the rebellion broke out, for the North to realize that such a thing had come to pass. We had been yielding and giving up to the men of the South for the last thirty years in all the demands they could make upon us; we had been going on in the ordinary course of life, supposing they were tending to their own concerns; when they made demands we yielded everything they could desire, and when at last they raised the red hand to strike, it was almost impossible for us to believe that such an event really existed. The theory that the South put forth as long ago as the year 1830, was that every State was a sovereign and independent nation of itself; that every State had the right and power to dissent from the laws of the United States constitutionally enacted, and to nullify them whenever the people saw fit to do so. In '32 they made an experiment with that little pestiferous State, South Carolina, to nullify the laws of Congress; but that experiment was made at a very unfortunate time, for there happened to sit in the Presidential chair an old man from Tennessee, named JACKSON. It was understood, in the first place, that he was a man for war, when war was necessary; and, in the second, that when he pledged himself to a thing, he generally carried it out. He illustrated the adage, that "the pen is mightier than the sword," for he crushed out the notorious act by a paper proclamation, and if such a man had sat in the Presidential chair in '60 this rebellion would have been crushed, or at least postponed. JACKSON told us in his letter of 1835, that the attempt of the South to destroy this Government by using the right of nullification or secession was laid aside for a time, and soon it would appear and another attempt would be made by using the institution of slavery either as a pretext or for the purpose of uniting the people of the South in rebellion, how what lay at the bottom of all this. These men discerned that, notwithstanding our the equal compromises of the Constitution, the political power was not at no distant day fall from their hands; they saw that the North, given to free labor, where churches and schools abounded, where man stood forth in his noble character as a free man, grow up; they found out that population would would take away from them political power and plant it in the great West and Northwest. The institution of slavery is opposed to everything looking toward freedom of action, of thought, of principle, everything looking toward science and industry take wings and flee away. The South saw that notwithstanding they had by the constitution an equality of political power given them—three votes for every five slaves—they would not be able to hold it or have any political power in the nation, much less control its destiny. The men of the South ruled this country, with one or two exceptions, for a long time. It is true that a few Democrats from Northern States were elected, but they were not to put their hands upon slaves during the whole time. I have a right to speak of such things, for I stand here as a man who never has been anything but a Democrat, and never expect to be anything else to my grave. Hence, with JACKSON, it was the party of my principle through all its labors, until in 1856 they asked me to vote for JAMES BUCHANAN, when I turned away. I voted for DOUGLAS with no hope of averting this rebellion, for it would have occurred under DOUGLAS as well as under LINCOLN, but as I was a Democrat under JACKSON, so in 1861 I never stopped to ask who was in the Presidential Chair, but went home to my Government and took my position there. [Applause.] What was it to me who sat in the Presidential chair? what was it to me who ruled this country so long as he was looking to its preservation? Over thirty years ago the doctrine was brought forward that no Free State should be admitted into this Union unless a Slave State was admitted to balance it in the Senate of the United States. In the early history of the Government your fathers regarded this institution as slavery as an unmitigated evil, as a wrong that had been thrust upon us by the old Government, and which, in due time, would pass away, leaving us as they intended we should be, a nation of freemen, and freemen only. [Cheers.] So long as the Southern people were inclined to keep this institution as a domestic one, the North let it alone. The principal of the Democratic party was non-interference with slavery where it exists under the permission of the Constitution. The Whig party was literally the same. We bought Louisiana and Texas and gave them to the South for slave territory. We agreed upon the Missouri Compromise, and afterward they demanded its repeal, and that slavery might go into every State to be acknowledged and protected as property. We struggled for four days in the Cincinnati Convention against the efforts of Southern men demanding the right of taking slaves into the Territories, and under the threats that unless it was conceded they would secede from the Convention, and from the Union. The speaker reviewed at length the course pursued by the Southerners in the successive conventions. There sat recently in Chicago a convention of men who formed a platform, and over that convention presided a very distinguished Governor of a very large State of the Union. Now, my friends, if you are suited with the gentleman who rules the State of New-York, I have nothing to say but that I do not admire your taste. [Applause.] The Union party is composed of about two-thirds of the old Democratic party, and to compensate for that, about two-thirds of the old Silver-Gray Whigs went over to the Democratic party. The speaker referred to certain Ohio Democrats running for Congress in 1862, and pledging to support the war; but when elected voted otherwise. PENDLETON and LONG, however, were exceptions, as they never pretended to be war candidates. Those men so pledging themselves had deceived their constituents, and he thought he knew of a Governor of a State that ought so be loyal who deceived the people in the same way. [Applause.]

GOV. BROUGH continued his remarks until a late hour, and concluded amidst great applause.

MR. SPENCER announced the speaker for the next meeting, and the band played some patriotic airs, while the audience dispersed.

DR. WM. H. GREGG—Dear Sir: In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in the five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health. Yours truly,

ASTOR BURNING SPRING
PETROLEUM LAND ASSOCIATION,
TO BE INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.
CAPITAL........$2,000,000
100,000 Shares, at $20 Each.

Subscription price for the remaining 20,000 shares for full-paid stock, free from all assessments, $8 per share—being less than one-half of its par value; 10,000 shares are reserved to pay expenses of the Association. The property secured for the company consists of about 7,000 acres, all in fee. There is between sixty and seventy miles of this property on rivers, runs and creeks, of the best boring territory. It is located mostly on the celebrated Rathbone Burning Spring Tract, on the Little Kanawha River, Wirt and Calhoun Counties, Virginia, about twenty-four miles from Parkersburgh, and seven miles from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. A charter has been granted for a branch road, and laid out directly through the lands of this association, which it is expected will be completed in a very short time, which will give a direct communication to all the Eastern cities, as well as the Ohio River, by the railroad. Numerous applications have already been made for leasing lots on this tract, and it is confidently believed by reliable persons that have returned, after making a thorough examination of the property, who are ready to give all information that may be wanted in regard to the same, that it can be made to yield an income to the association in ninety days after its organization of five to ten per cent. per month on the investments from the cash bonusses, for leases of lots and royalty alone, without the expenditure of one dollar by the company. Lead ore, coal and timber of the finest quality, in immense quantities, are also on these lands. The attention of capitalists to this enterprise is solicited, as a first-class investment at price offered. The organization of the company is deferred until the stock subscription is completed. No money to be paid until the Shareholders' Committee are satisfied with the property, when a meeting of subscribers will be called for the purpose of electing their own officers. Books of subscription, giving full particulars, are now open at the office of

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE
Is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure.

Will you who are suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick-Headache, Cramp and Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and General Debility and weakness of the whole system, try but a single bottle, we will never urge you again, if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits, the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself, and the beneficial result, as certain as the sunshine, all earnestly persistently, urge you to just try one bottle. If what we say is not correct. If our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true. If you do not regard that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful, we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

TO THE LADIES OF AMERICA,
LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS,
LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS.
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS cure all complaints incident to the sex, and remove all obstructions of nature, from whatever cause, producing health, vigor and strength.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS are better than all pills, powders and nostrums; being a fluid preparation their action is direct and positive, and it needs nothing but good common sense to see and understand the reason why they cure all those ills to which the female system is subjected, with dispatch and a degree of certainty which nothing but a scientifically compounded fluid preparation could reach. They are, in the most obstinate cases,

RELIABLE, AND SURE TO DO GOOD
RELIABLE, AND SURE TO DO GOOD!
AND CANNOT DO HARM,
AND CANNOT DO HARM,
To the most delicate constitutions.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS will certainly produce the regular return of nature, if taken a day or two before the expected period, and it is a maxim in the profession, that prevention is better than cure.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS have been used by over twenty-five thousand ladies, within the past six months, and the testimony of all is, "It surely cures."

CAUTION!! CAUTION!!!

Bear in mind that I guarantee my DROPS TO CURE Suppression of the Menses, from whatever cause, though care should be taken to ascertain if pregnancy be the cause, as these DROPS would be sure to produce miscarriage, if taken whilst in that situation, and all are cautioned against using them, as I wish it distinctly understood that I do not hold myself responsible when used under such circumstances.

TO MARRIED LADIES

They are peculiarly adapted, as they bring the monthly period with such perfect regularity.

I could furnish any quantity of testimonials of its efficacy from my own patients, but the practice of parading bought and fictitious ones before the public is so prevalent, that I do not deem it advisable.

Do not suffer from these irregularities when an investment of one dollar in Lyon's Periodical Drops will regulate and restore nature to its healthy course; and by those who have other preparations, which they desire to palm off upon the strength of the popularity of my Drops. But when the druggist you apply to has not got them, either make him buy them for you, or else inclose one dollar to the nearest general wholesale agent, who will return you a bottle by return express.

DO NOT BE IMPOSED UPON!
DO NOT BE IMPOSED UPON!

See that the name of Jno. L. Lyon is written upon the directions which are wrapped around each bottle. None others are genuine. Therefore, beware of counterfeits. They are for sale by every druggist in city and country, at one dollar ($1) per bottle. If you wish relief, take no other.
